THREE KILLED AS AUTOS COLLIDE THURSDAY NIGHT

F. F. HAWLEY OF MARSHALL, ONE OF THE VICTIMS

Josephine Gay And A Youth Others Meeting Death

BOY IS IDENTIFIED THIS MORNING

First Reports Indicating He Might Be From Here Wrong

One of the worst automobile accidents on highway 65 south of Sedalia, occurred about 11 o'clock Thursday night one-half mile south of the Cole Camp junction of highway's 65 and 52, near Moonlight Inn in which three persons were instantly killed.

Those killed were:

F. F. Hawley, 345 East Porter, Marshall, Mo.

Josephine Gay, 21, of near West Point, Indiana.

Duane Loyal Staffenhagen, 18, Sibley, Iowa.

The accident occurred just over a hill crest, going south from the highway junction. The two cars, one a 1937 Chevrolet coach, driven by F. F. Hawley, and accompanied by Duane Stauffenhagen, said to be hitch-hiking, was headed north on highway 65 while the other car, a 1932 Buick coupe, driven by Josephine Gay was headed south on the highway on the left side of the pavement.

As the two vehicles crashed the two men were killed instantly while the girl was fatally injured and she died a few minutes after other motorist reached her side. She never regained consciousness.

Bodies Viewed By Coroner

Two people who said they were from Sedalia and whose names were not obtained were the first to arrive on the scene, and closely following them were Lloyd Sparks and his wife Mrs. Evelyn Sparks of Livonia, Mo., and Ernest Monsees of Cole Camp. The girl died behind the wheel of her car and she was not removed until after the three bodies were viewed in the wreckage by Dr. T. S. Reser, coroner of Benton County, who resides at Cole Camp.

Dr. Reser and Sheriff Harrison Eaton of Warsaw, conducted an investigation of the affair and after conferring with Prosecuting Attorney Frank Brady decided an inquest was not necessary as it was evident the woman was in the wrong inasmuch as her car and marks on the highway plainly showed the route of her automobile.

When friends of the girl, "Buddy" Spangenberg of Santiago, Mo., and Miss Ethel Benfield, the latter of Lees Summit, but who teaches school in Independence, refused to give Dr. Reser any information, the boy was taken to Warsaw and held in the county jail for investigation, the girl later being returned to Moonlight, where she obtained her car and drove off.

According to Earl Bahr Spangenberg, the two girls and his brother had driven to Windsor to get the Ford car of Miss Benfield, which was being repaired. He said he did not know of the accident for sometime afterwards and learned of it while at the highway garage at Lincoln.

Parties attracted to the scene said the three had been at Moonlight for sometime, and during the evening the Gay girl was looking for Miss Benfield and Spangenberg and when she failed to find them went out, stepped into the Buick and drove off, evidently heading for the Spangenberg home where she was staying.

Met Girl In Indiana

Earl Spangenberg told a newspaper reporter the girl's parents reside on a farm near West Point, Indiana, and that he had met her in Wolcott, Indiana more than a year ago. The girl wanted to go to Kansas City, and she drove his car, the Buick coupe, to Kansas City, and unable to find employment, went to the Spangenberg boy's parents home at Sanitago, west of Lincoln, to remain for a time.

Spangenberg is a transport truck driver for the Radcliff Motor Co., in Kansas City, and he said he was home visiting with his parents with the girl for a few days.

HUGE SUMS IN SOCIAL SECURITY FROM TREASURY

First Three Years Of Act's Operation Cost $1,232,558,598

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12—The first three years of the social security act cost the federal treasury $1,232,558,598 and brought in $887,946,271 of revenue.

Roswell Magill, acting secretary of the treasury, made public today the statistics involved in operation of the law, the third anniversary of which will be Sunday.

Federal expenditures for the gigantic pension system have included $504,204,188 for grants to the states, $690,000,000 for investments in the old age reserve fund, and about $38,000,000 for administration of the law.

Revenue fell far behind expenditures because amounts nearly equal to the receipts are permanently earmarked for the old age reserve fund, leaving the state grants to be financed out of ordinary treasury funds.

Assistance To States

The states received $350,590,010 for old age assistance, $45,819,189 for aid to dependent children, $11,528,663 for blind pensions, $8,538,383 for maternal and child health services, $5,715,952 for aid to crippled children, $22,735,562 for other child welfare services, $19,275,075 for public health work, including venereal disease control, and $60,901,347 for administering state unemployment compensation laws.

The controversial old age reserve fund—scheduled to reach $47,000,000,000 in 1980—was valued by the treasury at $1,136,463,498, but its actual investments including reinvestment of interest receipts, amount to only $700,300,000. The diference is an appropriation credit for which the actual cash will not be received by the fund until the old age taxes intended to fill the fund are collected.

So far, 38,265,000 employes and 1,787,000 employers have paid in $737,526,539 of old age pension taxes. Legally these taxes have no connection with the fund, but actually the treasury uses 95 per cent of the receipts for the fund and the other 5 per cent for administrative costs of the social security board.

The treasury borrows back the money it pays the fund, and puts into the fund special treasury obligations bearing 3 per cent interest. The social security act requires investment of the fund in 3 per cent government securities, which in turn are added to the federal debt.

AIR RAIDS MADE ON QUARTERS OF CHIANG KAI-SHEK

Estimate Of 500 Casualties In Attacks By Hundred Planes

OIL TANKS SET AFIRE AT HANKOW

Bomb On Military Establishments At Provisional Capital

By The Associated Press.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 12—A Japanese naval communique tonight announced more than 100 Japanese warplanes had carried out a spectacularly successful raid on the Hankow headquarters of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

The announcement declared the raid was "100 per cent effective" in attacking military establishments and railways at Hankow and Wuchang as well as the generalissimo's headquarters.

Japanese estimated 500 casualties resulted.

Set Oil Tanks Ablaze

By The Associated Press.

HANKOW, China, Aug. 12—Japanese air attacks, called more daring and destructive than any before in this teeming industrial tri-city section, today set afire oil tanks believed belonging to Standard Oil Company of New York, Texaco, or Shell Oil companies.

(The Central News agency said fifty Japanese bombers at noon dropped 200 missiles on Wuchang and 100 on Hankow and that a heavy casualty toll was feared).

Populous districts of Wuchang and the Canton-Hankow railroad terminal were hit.

APPROVE BONDS FOR NEW AUDITORIUM

The Knob Noster school bond election, for a new auditorium, held Tuesday, carried by a vote of 351 to 38. It needed only 2-3 of a majority to carry, and it won by 9 to 1 margin. Announcement was made last Friday morning that the Public Works Administration had granted $18,081.00 for the building of a new school auditorium. The bond issue called for a $22,000.00 making a total of $40,081.00 for the building. The auditorium will be approximately 80 by 80 feet and modern in every detail. Members of the school board are as follows, Mrs. G. W. Grove, Mrs. Charles Covey, Louis P. Lay, Walter J. Carr, Oscar W. Peithman and Frank Jenks.

J. M. Burke Injured

J. M. Burke, route 4, Beaman, suffered a broken left collarbone Thursday when the horse which he was riding stumbled, throwing him to the ground, and fell on him.

Burke said the horse stepped into the ditch and fell pinning him underneath. Dr. Charles McNeil, Sedalia, was called to treat Burke.

RETURN FLIGHT OF HUGE PLANE TO BERLIN DELAYED

Demonstration Of Readiness For Air Service Across Atlantic

NEW YORK, Aug. 12—(AP)—Minor damage to the propellor and an engine cowling of the 19-ton German plane Brandenburg delayed today the start of the huge ship's homeward flight across the Atlantic ocean.

A quick turn-around trip had been planned but this idea was dropped soon after the four-man crew brought the 24-passenger transport skimming into Floyd Bennett field yesterday at the end of a record breaking trip from Berlin. It was the first west-east linking of Berlin and New York and the 3,942 miles were covered in 24 hours, 54 minutes.

Spouting oil betrayed the damage as the plane rolled to a stop. Alfred Henke, blond and taciturn captain of the Brandenburg's crew, said the damage was trivial and, if necessary, the plane could have started home immediately. But there was no rush and New York had shown them such a "splendid welcome," he said, that the fliers wanted to stay "a day or two."

Henke would not commit himself on the hour of a takeoff but, "in any case," he said, it would not be today.

Henke and his flying mates, Rudolph von Moreau, co-pilot; Paul Dierberg, flight engineer; and Fritz Kober, radio operator, were completely casual about the flight.

The Brandenburg made the unheralded flight as a demonstration of Germany's readiness to institute mail and passenger service between Germany and the United States.

Dinner in New York

Four German fliers, who had dinner last night in Berlin, dropped in on New York this afternoon to complete in 25 hours aviation's first westward flight between the two cities.

Over 3,942 miles of land and water their 24-passenger Focke-Wulf transport flew to demonstrate, it was explained, the feasibility of air service between Germany and America.

But so unheralded and casual was the flight it had been under way hours before it came to the public's notice.

By one of aviation's pioneers, Al Williams, the feat was described as "one of the most significant developments in modern flying." He stressed that Alfred Henke, the skipper, and his crew of three had made the trip in a land plane, not a seaplane or flying boat.

FATE OF CARROLL TO JURY'S HANDS

SOUTH PARIS, Me., Auf. 12.—The fate of former Deputy Sheriff Francis M. Carroll, on trial for the murder of elderly Dr. James G. Littlefield, was placed in the jury's hands today.

In his charge to the jury, Judge William H. Fisher explained three verdicts were possible, acquittal, guilty of murder or guilty of manslaughter.

Conviction for murder carries a mandatory sentence of life imprisonment in Maine, and conviction for manslaughter a 10 year term.

In closing arguments the prosecutor contended Carroll murdered the country doctor to conceal "unfatherly acts" towards his own daughter, Barbara, 18, while Carroll's counsel contended the murder was committed by Paul N. Dwyer, 19, Barbara's former sweetheart and Carroll's chief accuser.

MISSOURI PACIFIC DAY PARADE BE HELD SATURDAY

Three Bands Be In The Line Of March-Business Men Are Invited

Missouri Pacific Day will be celebrated in Sedalia Saturday morning when the employees of the shops will march from Broadway north on Ohio to Main, west on Main to Moniteau, south on Moniteau to Second and east on Second to Osage and south on Osage to Broadway, where the parade will disband.

Mayor Julian Bagby will lead the parade with G. T. Callender, superintendent of shops, L. L. Studer, district storekeeper, Harry Homans, assistant chief booster and P. R. Nichols, chief booster, as grand marshals.

There will be three bands on hand to provide the music; the Missouri Pacific Booster band, Kroencke's band and the Colored Booster band. Members of the Federated shops crafts will march behind the banners of their respective crafts carrying pennants with the word "Think" printed on them. There will also be a number of other large banners which will be carried by the members of the shop crafts.

Each and every merchant and business man in the community is invited to take part by entering a float or any other vehicle, in the parade to help make Missouri Pacific day one of the biggest events of the year.

Parade Lineup

The lineup of the march as tentatively arranged is as follows: Mayor Julian Bagby and grand marshals, color guard Veterans of Foreign Wars, Missouri Pacific band, Boilermakers, Machinists, Clerks, Carmen, Kroencke's band, Blacksmiths, Firemen and Oilers, Sheet Metal Workers, Electricians, Boy Scout Troop No. 50, sponsored by the Missouri Pacific Booster club, Colored Booster band, Colored Missouri Pacific employees, and the retired Missouri Pacific employees with others desiring to join the parade to follow.

The parade will start promptly at 10 o'clock.

HUBERT S. LITTLE WAS KIDNAPED HE TELLS THE PATROL

Sedalian Says He Was Forced To Drive Couple Who Robbed Him

WAS RELEASED NEAR CONCORDIA

Went To Sub-Office At Marshall After Freed By Captors

Hubert S. Little, a representative of a company making loans under the supervision of the Federal Housing Loan Administration, with offices in the Waldman building, reported to Sergeant Russell Minor, of the State Highway Patrol in Marshall, that he had been kidnaped about 9:30 o'clock this morning and released about an hour later one miles east of Concordia, Mo.

Mr. Little after being released motored to his sub-office in Marshall and there made his report to Sergeant Minor. According to the State Highway Patrol officer, Mr. Little made the following report:

"I was driving about five miles north of Sedalia on Highway 65 when a 1937 black Ford coach in front of me slowed down and I passed it, and a few minutes later the car sped past and down the highway a distance swerved across the pavement and stopped. I stopped and a man and a woman got out of the car and approached my car on my side and informed me it was a holdup.

"The woman got in the front seat and the man in the back seat. He was armed. After they got into the car the woman in a broken foreign language cursed and told me I had to drive them some place. The woman then took my billfold and removed about $8 in money from it and when they came upon the identification card of the Federal Housing Loan Administration, they then decided to let me go, but not until after I had driven them to the location on Highway 40 east of Concordia about a mile.

Declares Warning Given

"Where I stopped there was a country cross road and in it was parked a black Ford car. The man and woman got out of my car, a Plymouth, and told me not to make any report of this to anyone or they would get me. They then left and got into the other car which had two persons in it, I believe another man and woman.

"The car drove out and headed east on the highway towards St. Louis. They remarked, I believe they would go to St. Louis. The couple talked of taking a camera I had, but when I told them the car and camera belonged to the government, the man said something to the woman in a foreign language, I believe in Italian. I guess they didn't want the car or camera when I told them it belonged to the government."

The woman was described as being five feet four inches tall, 110 pounds, dark hair, dark complexion, tan riding habit with tan boots, tan shirt.

No description was given of the other three persons. The man was said to be carrying a .38 police positive pistol.

Mr. Little resides at 815 South Vermont avenue, and prior to taking over his new work was connected with the W. P. A. under Robert Callaway who at the time was in charge of W. P. A. commodities when the offices were located in Sedalia.

REGISTERING OF ROOMS FOR FAIR

In Preparation for Missouri State Fair week in Sedalia, local residents are registering with the Chamber of Commerce the number of rooms they have available for renting to Fair visitors, according to John G. Crawford, Chamber secretary. In addition to informing visitors where to obtain rooms, the Chamber of Commerce will turn over a list of the registered homes to the local hotels so that the latter can send to local homes those they are unable to accomodate.

EVIDENCE GIVEN OF INTENT FOR A VAST SPY SYSTEM

Contended Envoy Lost Job For Not Fully Cooperating With Bund

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12—The house committee investigating un-American activities heard testimony today that Hans Luther, long time German ambassador here, lost his job because he did not cooperate fully with the German-American Bund, a Nazi organization.

John C. Metcalfe, German born committee investigator, said he was told this by Fritz Kuhn, Bund leader who accepted Metcalfe into membership and hired him for a speaking tour.

During this tour, particularly in Los Angeles, Metcalfe said, local Bund members complained of lack of full cooperation with the German consul, particularly in obtaining Storm Troop uniforms.

Metcalfe said the real purpose of the Nazi movement in the United States was three-fold:

1. To establish a vast spy network.

2. To form powerful sabotage machine.

3. To develop the present Bund group into an organization encompassing as many German-Americans as possible.

Keep War Possibility In Mind

The Bund, he said, is always keeping in mind the possibility of war and what it could do to help Germany in such an event.

"It must be borne in mind that in 1916, prior to the entrance of the United States into the World war, Germany had practically no espionage organization or sabotage machine in this country. It is to avoid a duplication of this mistake that the Bund has become active," Metcalfe said.

"One of the principal means of bringing this about has been the establishment by the Nazis in Stuttgart, Germany, of the Auslands bureau, which is the foreign institute. This institute at the present time is manned in Stuttgart by men who were former leaders of the Nazi movement in this country, some of whom have even taken out citizenship papers.

"I refer to such men as Walter Kappe, who was the chief propaganda officer in this country for several years and served as an editor of the Nazi newspaper here; Fritz Gissibil, former national leader of the Nazi Bund inthis country, who, incidentally, was a witness for the McCormack committee in 1934, and then fled the country; and unconfirmed reports say this institute now also employs Heinz Spanknoebel, one of the founders of the Nazi movement in this country and a fugitive from justice, having been indicted by a federal grand jury inh New York."

SUGGESTS LEAVING OF FIELD OPEN

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich., Aug. 12.—Postmaster General James A. Farley, Democratic national chairman, contends the party should leave the 1940 presidential field open until President Roosevelt signifies whether he will seek a third term.

Farley, guest of honor at a testimonial dinner given by Michigan Democrats, told newsmen last night that "anybody who indicates his candidacy for the presidency before Roosevelt makes up his mind whether to run ought to have his head examined."

He added that Mr. Roosevelt is "just as popular as he ever was."

The national chairman appealed in his address at the banquet for the retention of a new deal congress.

FRANCE SEEKS INFORMATION ON NAZIS' TROOPS

Apprehension Evident On Military Preparations In Germany

VIRTUALLY ON A WAR-TIME FOOTING

Declared 1,300,000 Reservists Called To The Colors

PARIS, Aug. 12—(AP)—France today instructed her diplomats abroad to transmit immediately to Paris all information available concerning military preparations now taking place in Germany.

Foreign office officials declared reports of Nazi military measures of unusual size were "being followed by diplomatic circles with the greatest attention."

An authorized source said information in the foreign office's possession showed "important maneuvers will be held in the reich."

The statement was made in regard to reports of huge German troop movements published in French and British newspapers.

These sources said "it seems excessive" to call German troop movements "mobilization" as reported in some French and British newspapers and declared the German troop figures cited in the European press appear exaggerated.

Newspapers of both London and Paris reported 1,300,000 reservists had been called to the colors in Germany for a period of instruction to supplement the standing army.

(Munich dispatches said Bavaria's population was upset by military preparations along the German-Czechoslovak frontier despite official assurances they were nothing more than usual autumn maneuvers.

(Automobiles, trucks, furniture vans and even municipal busses of the district have been requisitioned by the German army.)

Some belief was expressed in foreign office quarters German military preparations were designed to aid diplomatic pressure on the Czechoslovak government as well as Britain and France, for a rapid solution of the Sudeten minority question along lines demanded by Adolf Hitler, self-proclaimed "protector" of all the Germans outside the reich.

(Britain's unofficial mediator, Viscount Runciman, is now in Czechoslovakia studying the situation created by Nazi-supported Sudeten demands for self-government.)

While admitting "anything can happen," foreign office and diplomatic circles in the main were inclined to believe Nazi preparations were designed only for pressure and discarded the probability of open conflict.

On War Footing

BERLIN, Aug. 12—(AP)—Nazi Germany is on virtually a war-time footing as the time for annual war maneuvers nears.

Nation wide preparations are proceeding at top speed for a type of maneuvers to be used by Germany for the first time since the world war—creation of entire new units for training reserves in six to ten weeks.

Crisis of War Threats

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12—(AP)—Secretary Roper disclosed today a conviction of high-placed English friends that Europe will pass through the crisis of war threats in the next 30 days.

Roper, who returned this week from a month's visit in Great Britain, said in an interview:

"The people with whom I talked said that if they could get through the next month without war, there would be no general European war for at least a year and probably for years to come."

He explained that when he was in England two years ago, Britons appeared "jittery" about the the prospects for peace because of their lack of military preparedness.

"Now," he continued, "the English believe their rearmament program is far enough to command respect and peace."

STATES WORK TOGETHER

The relations between states are, like everything else, becoming more complex. But as new techniques develop, some of these new relationships may furnish a key to the perennial puzzle of the fields reserved for the federal and state governments.

For instance, this fall a meeting is to be held in Cincinnati of representatives of nine states. Those nine states believe they face a problem which concerns themselves, but not necessarily any of the other states, or the federal government. Therefore they propose to tackle it themselves.

The problem is pollution of the Ohio river. Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Tennessee and West Virginia believe it chiefly concerns themselves. Therefore, through mutual action, they will try to arrive at a plan where each state will control pollution within its own territory.

New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania and Delaware recently came to such an agreement on pollution of the Delaware river.

Thus, without continual appeal to the federal government, a technique is gradually being developed for mutual solution among groups of states of problems which distinctly affect those states.

The best way to prevent "encroachment" of federal power into the state field, is by demonstrations like these that states are really able to get to grips with their problems and solve them.

POVERTY IN COSTUME

It's pretty hard to overtake a fast-gypsy on a capricious route, but it has been done.

The dilemmas and demands of a complex industrial society, which have been on the gypsy's heels for some years now, have finally overtaken him and got him down. At least half of the 30,000 gypsies who had struggled to preserve the nomadic Romany tradition in the United States are stranded in the big cities, and a good proportion of them are on relief. Of the 100,000 gypsies of all kinds in the country, approximately half have dropped from sight in the American melting pot.

The gypsy's situation is peculiar at this stage. In most communities he finds himself unwanted as a group. As an individual he has a background and temperament which makes the process of self-adjustment to an urban, industrial civilization highly difficult. He is untrained as a worker, usually illiterate, and a nonconformist.

Once his rootlessness and hand-to-mouth existence gave him a romantic air, and that was an undeniable asset. Those qualities of his life don't set him apart any longer, though. There are too many other men without work and without homes, and the gypsy is only another member of that unassimilated army.

Rackets can develop only by political tolerance.—Francis E. Rivers, assistant to District Attorney Dewey of New York.

We need a breed of "curriculum killers" —Lloyd N. Morrisett, Yonkers, N. Y., educator, who finds useless courses in the schools.

SHORT TALKS ON ADVERTISING

Prepared by the Bureau of Research and Education
Advertising Federation of America

WHAT IS A CONSUMER?

IF YOU like slogans, you may accept this one: "The consumer is king." Not clever, perhaps but very true—and important. As a motto, it figuratively hangs over the door of every business office and every factory in the land. Yes, and over the doorways of farmers who raise our foodstuffs, too.

It is literally true that consumers have the power of life or death over every business enterprise. They decide exactly what products shall be made and who shall be permitted to make them. They decide what form of distribution they want and which storekeepers shall remain in business. Consumers decide what kind of advertising there is to be, for in making their choice of brands they reward certain advertisers and punish others.

Who are these all-powerful consumers who daily write the destinies of business? They are the man and woman with the buying dollar—the voting dollar. They go to the business polls every day of the year, casting their vote-dollars with the butcher, the baker, and automobile maker. They vote for the products they like and for the companies they approve.

Some advertisers succeed and others fail. They lay their claims before consumers, and the consumer dollars decide. There is no recourse and no appeal. No amount of fancy theory can change the simple fact that the consumer is the boss, and always will be, so long as we safeguard our system of free private enterprise.

Consumers are not a special class of people. You cannot classify our population under the divisions of capital, labor, and consumers. Each of us is a bit of all three. Everyone who has any savings, property, or insurance belongs to the capital class. Everyone who works for pay belongs to the labor class. And everyone who buys things belongs to the consumer class. Practically everybody is a consumer, except the child who is not old enough to run to the corner store for candy.

This makes it clear why there is no such thing as all business being on one side of the fence and all consumers on the other. But for each individual business the consumers are well defined. They are the customers and potential customers. There are a million separate businesses, and their many groups of consumers criss-cross and overlap. But in every individual case, consumers control the fate of the business that depends on their patronage.

This fact is the very essence of economic freedom in America. In several other countries the governments determine what products shall be made available to consumers and which business concerns shall survive. Under such conditions the people lose essential liberties and normal progress must stop.

The American way is the better way. Here it is up to every business to please consumers by its own efforts; to produce the best goods it can, and to advertice them to the public. This is the way of progress, the way to higher standards of life. So long as the consumer is king, America will always be free.

TEAM-PLAY AT HOME

Where would the world be without the spirit of sportsmanship in marriage?

Take the story of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Roder of Camden, N. J. A judge gave them 30 days apiece for selling beer without a license. Roder didn't want to see his wife in jail, so he arranged with the judge to serve his wife's sentence after serving his own. Mrs. Roder carried on at the store alone.

This is the sort of co-operative give and take that matrimony sorely needs. For instance, sometimes when the husband is about to pay his wife's traffic ticket, let the wife step forward and offer herself as a sacrifice, and pay her own. Sometimes when the wife has overdrawn the joint account, let her insist on making her own explanations to the bank for a change. And sometimes when it appears as if the wife would be forced to entertain some young and pretty out-of-town friends despite herself, let the husband step up and insist on performing this burdensome task himself.

These are the little sacrifices that ought to keep marriages intact.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

TRADE MARK REGISTERED

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON — To insiders, not one but two momentous struggles are taking place on the New York Stock Exchange.

One is the spectacular battle of prices on the "Big Board," about which everyone knows. The other, a fierce behind-the-scenes conflict, is known only to those directly involved. But its outcome is of far greater moment to the country and to the Exchange than the headlined ups and downs.

The opposing forces in this secret struggle are, on one side, the Securities and Exchange Commission plus the new liberal Stock Exchange regime headed by young President William Martin, and on the other the battered but still powerful Old Guard plus the band of inside market operators known as specialists and floor-traders.

The crucial issue at stake is whether these insiders should or should not be "segregated"—that is, prohibited from trading for themselves in stocks that they sell or buy for customers.

This practice has been the subject of heated controversy ever since the Stock Exchange was put under the microscope by the Pecora investigation in 1933. In the original draft of the Securities and Exchange Act there was a provision barring specialists and floor-traders from buying and selling for themselves. In the involved jockeying over the legislation, this specific ban was eliminated and a milder version giving the SEC certain discretionary powers was substituted.

Under chairmen Joe Kennedy and Jim Landis, the SEC made no move to utilize this authority, and the boys played ducks and drakes pretty much as they pleased. But when Bill Douglas, militant young liberal, became head of the Commission, he promptly served notice on the Exchange that curbs had to be clamped down on the inside operators.

Poker With Mirrors

Douglas took the position that for specialists and floor-traders to be allowed to deal in stocks for themselves was synonymous to a man in a poker game having mirrors over the shoulders of the other players.

Douglas' demand for a house cleaning of the business rules of the Exchange precipitated the historic fight that was climaxed by the conviction of Richard Whitney, boss of the Old Guard, for theft, and the victory of the reform elements in the election of Martin as the first paid president of the Exchange.

With Martin in the saddle, Douglas renewed his drive for segregation of the floor traders. The new regime assured him it was willing to act, and asked for SEC help to formulate regulations. These are now being drafted amid terrific undercover sniping and high-pressure wire-pulling.

The outcome of the secret struggle remains to be seen. The endangered traders are scared and jittery, but they are fighting with their backs to the wall and are still far from licked.

"Robin Hood"

Richard Whitney, former head of the New York Stock Exchange, is receiving more fan mail than any prisoner in the history of Sing Sing, where he is serving time for appropriating his customers' money.

Many of the letter hail him as a sort of Robin Hood because he robbed the rich. The fact that Whitney did not distribute his loot among the poor appears to have been either overlooked or considered of no significance by the writers.

Mae West's Armor

A surprise disclosure in a report just issued by the LaFollette Civil Liberties Committee is the fact that Mae West at one time was considering buying an armored car.

The information is contained in a letter, written by Donald J. Wright, a salesman for Federal Laboratories, Inc., which sold hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of tear and sickening gas to city officials and anti-union employers to be used against strikers.

Wright was very coy in his comments regarding the famed movie star.

"I am still working on this job," he wrote, "but the chances of an order seem to be slipping . . . I haven't given up hope yet. Maybe if Mae decides not to have the car protected she will order a bullet-proof vest and have herself armored. It wouldn't be any fun, anyway, taking the measurements of an automobile."

Came The Dawn

Senator Burt Wheeler seems to have taken a cue from the recent Montana primary, in which his candidate was badly licked by Representative Jerry O'Connell.

Last summer, following the bitter Supreme Court battle, in which he led the anti-White House forces, Wheeler stumped his State belaboring the President, accusing him in one speech of mysteriously juggling the $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund, and inferring a hidden scandal in the handling of money.

But since O'Connell's triumph Wheeler has been singing a different tune. Differing squarely with his anti-Administration associates, he recently defended the right of the President to intervene in local elections. The other day he warmly lauded Roosevelt's railroad strategy and recovery measures, and predicted full recovery by fall.

Group Health

Ever since the recent National Health Conference split on the rock of government-in-health, a little ditty has been going around Washington which plays on the names of two physicians prominent in that battle.

One is liberal Hugh Cabot of the Mayo Clinic, who favors group health; the other is conservative Dr. Morris Fishbein of the American Medical Association Journal, who opposes.

The ditty is a sequel to the familiar quatrain about Boston's Cabots who "speak only to Lowells, and the Lowells speak only to God." The medical version goes like this

"The Cabots now speak to the people,
And Fishbein speaks only to God."

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Is it corrrect to speak the name of the person to whom you have just been introduced in place of saying "How do you do?"
2. Is it better form to use the word "residence" or "house?"
3. Is it good usage to say "folks" when meaning "family?"
4. Is it the responsibility of the host and hostess to draw all guests into the conversation?
5. Is it all right for a child to call a young aunt "Mary" instead of "Aunt Mary?"

What would you do if—
The persons you are with start a violent argument?
(a) Let them proceed but stay out of it yourself?
(b) Divert their attention by introducing a subject in which you know the chief arguer is interested?
(c) Say "Let's drop it?"

• SERIAL STORY

HAYWIRE HOUSE

BY EDWIN RUTT

COPYRIGHT, 1938 NEA SERVICE, INC.

Yesterday: To his amazement Kinks finds that pretty Sally Pennington owns the other half of the house.

CHAPTER III

KINKS stared at her dazedly.

"Y-you own the other half of it?" he echoed.

"That's what I said," confirmed Sally.

"But I don't understand," said Kinks. "How—how come . . ."

"What's so strange about it?" Sally cut in. "I was Mrs. Preston's companion for six years, ever since my mother died. I was the closest one to her. Of course, you could have knocked me down with a feather when I heard how she'd made her will. But thinking it over, it isn't so surprising."

"No," he said. "It isn't. The surprising part is that she included me."

"I know why that happened," said Sally. "Mrs. Preston was very . . . well, orthodox. You were her only living relative and she remembered you out of a sense of—of family obligation."

Kinks grinned palely. "Makes sort of a mug out of me, doesn't it? And I suppose you wish I wasn't in the picture?"

"If you're implying that I wish I had the whole thing myself, you're very insulting. But I don't see why I should welcome you when you talk about selling the place as if it were a crate of eggs."

"But why don't you want to sell it?"

"I've already told you. Because it's my—my home, that's all."

"Are you living alone here?" Kinks asked.

"No. Mrs. Clipstack is with me. She's sort of a combination cook and housekeeper. She's quite deaf and she takes a nap about this time every day. That's why she didn't hear you ringing, no doubt."

"I'm not surprised," said Kinks. "Everybody in Winstock takes a nap. This would have been a swell place for Rip Van Winkle."

* * *

FOR the first time Miss Sally gave detailed attention to the gentleman with whom she now owned a house. Under other circumstances he might have pleased her. Undeniably his crisp, black hair curled away from his temples very nicely. His eyes were gray and steady. The corner of his wide mouth broke into funny, little crinkles when he smiled. But his attitude was wrong. Altogether too flippant.

"Before we do another thing," she said, "you and I are going to call on Mr. Kenworthy. He'll tell you what you can do and what you can't."

"Forget it," Kinks suggested. "Mr. Kenworthy is off wool-gathering with a guy named Morpheus. Let's just browse about here."

"Browse, nothing," said Sally determinedly. "I left the car out in front when I came in from marketing. And we're going to Winstock this minute. Come along."

Mr. Caleb John Kenworthy had returned to his office. He was a fusty, little old gentleman with spectacles that explored the very tip of his nose. He peered at them over the spectacles.

"Ah, it's you, Sally," he said. "And . . ." He paused, looking perplexedly at Kinks.

Sally took the floor.

"This is Kinkaid Parker, Mr. Kenworthy," she said. "He's come up about Mrs. Preston's property."

Mr. Kenworthy surveyed Kinks from head to foot.

"Kinkaid Parker, eh?" he barked suddenly. "Well, why weren't you here for the reading of the will, young man? I notified you."

"I didn't know a thing about this till today," said Kinks, looking blank.

"And to complicate matters still further," said Sally, giving Kinks a dirty look, "Mr. Parker is determined to sell the property immediately."

Mr. Kenworthy gazed accusingly at Kinks, then back to Sally.

"He can't do that," he decreed. "Not unless you agree. Such are the terms of the will. Nothing can be done without the mutual consent of both beneficiaries."

"There!" exclaimed Sally triumphantly. "And I wouldn't agree to sell it in a million years."

"Still," continued Mr. Kenworthy, "you young people will have to do something. The position is this, Mr. Parker: Your aunt left barely enough in cash and securities to meet the death taxes. There are no other convertible assets. And the house has a mortgage calling for semi-annual interest and amortization payments of $600 each. Unfortunately, one of these payments is due in about two weeks. And unless you are—er—solvent, I don't know how it's going to be met."

* * *

KINKS whistled. Six hundred dollars? In his present unemployed state $600 seemed like a fortune.

"Who holds this mortgage?" he inquired.

Mr. Kenworthy made a grimace of distaste.

"You might as well say that old Spencer Ames does," he said. "Actually it's the First National Bank of Winstock. But what's the difference? Old Spencer Ames and the bank here are one and the same thing."

"Well," said Kinks, when they had left the lawyer's office, "you win the first round. But how are we going to raise $600?"

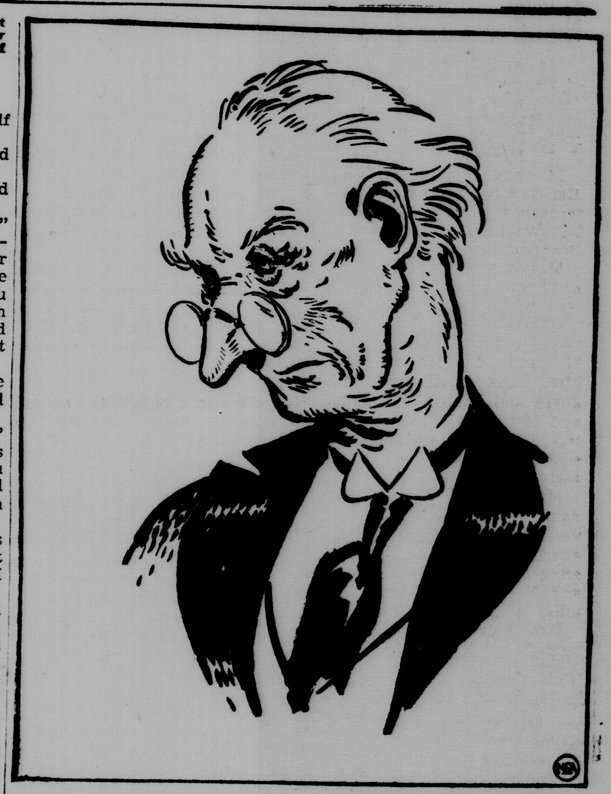

Sally frowned. "I don't know. I hadn't an idea it would be that much. Mrs. Preston never talked about her affairs. And I haven't anything like $600."

"You and me both," said Kinks. They paused on the curb.

"Well," inquired Sally, "what's the next move?"

"Search me," said Kinks. "I guess I'd better hop a train to New York and snatch a payroll."

At this point a car swung toward the curb. It came in so suddenly that Sally and Kinks instinctively jumped back. Behind the wheel sat a mousy-looking, elderly man. By his side was an ample and imperious female of advancing years. And the back of the car was literally crawling with suitcases, boxes and hampers of all descriptions.

Mr. Caleb John Kenworthy . . . a fussy, little old gentleman, whose spectacles explored the very tip of his nose.

The imperious lady beckoned Kinks. Obviously she mistook him for some of the village talent.

"Young man," she said, "can you direct me to a quiet, inexpensive hotel?"

"Hotel, Madam?" said Kinks politely.

"I said 'hotel,' young man," declared the imperious lady. "And, mind you, it must be quiet. Papa, here"—she indicated the mouse-like man—"has been ill. We started on a motor trip, but it's too much for him. We've decided to put up somewhere and rest."

"Why, I don't know . . ." said Kinks.

"There aren't any hotels around here," Sally cut in.

* * *

THE elderly woman looked at her sharply.

"You mean to say," she said, "that there isn't a quiet, little, country inn? Not even a farmhouse that could take us in?"

"Well . . ." began Sally.

Very suddenly Kinks interrupted her. "Just a minute."

Grade A inspirations come seldom. When they do they cause the eyes of the inspired to shine fanatically and his entire anatomy to shiver in a kind of ecstasy. Mr. Kinks Parker was aware both of shining and shivering. What an idea! What a honey of a brainwave! A rambling, roomy house. A peaceful countryside. A quiet river. In the kitchen a lady named Clipstack who could probably have made a bum out of the chef to Lucullus. And Miss Sally Pennington overseeing the lot and he, Kinks Parker, able to stick around and see a lot of Miss Sally Pennington.

"Well, what is it, young man?" said the elderly woman. "We're waiting."

Kinks Parker took a quick look at Sally and a long breath.

"I know just the place you want," he said. "Why don't you try the Pennington-Parker Restatorium?"

GERMAN PLANE MAKES BERLIN-NEW YORK HOP

Taking off from Staaken Airdrome, near Berlin, at 2:53 p. m. New York time, August 11, the giant German monoplane Brandenburg hopped across the Atlantic to New York, arriving at 3:49 p. m., Thursday, after a non-stop flight of 24 hours and 56 minutes. The all-metal, four-motored plane is pictured above after landing at Floyd Bennett Field, L. I. Pictured below with a New York policemen, are the crew of four, left to right: Walter Kober, radio man; Rudolf von Moreau, co-pilot; Captain Alfred Henke, pilot, and Paul Dierberg, flight engineer. Plans for quick turn-about and return flight to Germany were delayed by slight damage.

TODAY'S PATTERN

By CAROL DAY

This is a beautiful slenderizing style because all the detailing is above the waist, the shoulders are smooth and the skirt fits snugly at the hips.

Pattern 8299 is just as smart as it can be, not only for midsummer but for months and months to come. The soft jabots and button trims introduce the new bodice detailing. The square neckline is cut to a point, which makes it more becoming to full faces. This dress looks especially small at the waistline because of that point in front.

A perfect style for club afternoons and bridge parties, 8299 will be lovely in voile, mull or silk crepe, right now. You'll enjoy wearing it all through the fall, too, in velvet or crepe satin. It's easy to sew although it has real dressmaker detailing. The pattern includes a sew chart.

Pattern 8299 is designed for sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50 and 52. Size 38 requires 4 3-4 yards of 39 inch fabric.

The new FALL AND WINTER PATTERN BOOK, 32 pages of attractive designs for every size and every occasion, is now ready. Photographs show dresses made from these patterns being worn; a feature you will enjoy. Let the charming designs in this new book help you in your sewing. One pattern and the new Fall and Winter Pattern Book—25 cents. Pattern or book alone—15 cents.

For a PATTERN of this attractive model send 15c in CION, your NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER and SIZE to TODAY'S SEDALIA DEMOCRAT PATTERN BUREAU, 211 W. Wacker Drive, Chicago, Ill.

STOKOWSKI SAILS FOR HOME ON NORMANDIE

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., Aug. 11.—(AP)—Leopold Stokowski, the orchestra conductor, sailed for New York aboard the Normandie last night after a summer in Italy and Sweden. He spent much of the time with Greta Garbo, the movie actress, whom it was rumored he was to wed. Miss Garbo still is in Sweden.

President Roosevelt and Friends at Georgia Love-feast

GEORGE ACCEPTS CHALLENGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

"Just Begun To Fight" He Declares—"Not a One-Man Party"

ATLANTA, Aug. 12—(AP)—Senator Walter F. George, renounced by President Roosevelt as a "dyed-in-the-wool" conservative, based renomination campaign today on the declaration "We have just begun to fight."

"The Democratic party is not a one-man party," he asserted, "but a party for the great rank and file of American men and women who love justice, liberty, equal rights for all and special privileges for none."

The senate veteran told President Roosevelt "I accept the challenge" after the chief executive reaffirmed yesterday at Barnesville, Ga., that "I most assuredly would cast my ballot for Lawrence Camp," New Dealer.

"God bless you, Walter," the president replied. "Let's always be friends."

Senator George stood on an Atlanta hotel balcony last night and told a crowd which assembled to greet him "the events of today have cleared the last remaining doubt as to the verdict of the people of Georgia, Sept. 14."

"Run Own Affairs"

"I am confident," he said, "that the Georgia people are ready to fight this thing through to a finish and prove that we in Georgia are capable and determined to run our own affairs."

Other phases of the presidential speech, delivered at the dedication of a rural electrification project at the Gordon Memorial stadium, also drew attention.

Former Governor Eugene Talmadge and William G. McRae, the other candidates in the race for the Democratic senatorial nomination Sept. 14 were not invited to Barnesville.

The president did not mention McRae, but of Talmadge he said: "I have read so many of his proposals, so many of his promises, so many of his panaceas that I am very certain in my own mind that his election would contribute little to practical government."

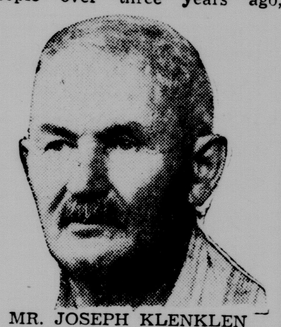

The former governor, a critic of the New Deal, particularly in 1936, several times this year had expressed a belief "They can't attack a man on a platform like this:"—his 3-point program of 1938 for free homesteads for the needy, higher tariffs and perfection of CCC camps for trade and farm training.

Talmadge deferred comment on the president's speech.

"Could Not Ask For Better And Quicker Results," He Said

KruGon Wasted No Time In Regulating His Digestion; Now Eats and Enjoys Meals Without Gas and Bloating Afterwards; Proper Elimination Given Mr. Klenklen Too With Use of KruGon.

KruGon is not a new medicine, although it is comparatively new to the people of Sedalia and vicinity. This laxative-tonic formula was first introduced to suffering people over three years ago, during which time many hundreds of sufferers have found it to be just what they had been needing for years. For example, read what Mr. Joseph Klenklen, Route No. 1, Pilot Grove, Mo., (just northeast of here), a well known local gentleman, said recently in talking with the KruGon Man who is daily meeting the local public at the McFarland and Robinson Drug Co., 104 West Main Street, this city:

MR. JOSEPH KLENKLEN

"My only regret is that I did not know of KruGon many years ago," said Mr. Joseph Klenklen, "My health had not been very good for the past thirty years regarding my digestion. It seemed I would have severe attacks of bloating and gas pains after most every meal. I could not find a diet that would agree with me all of the time and I soon lost my appetite and never had the normal desire for eating. Often the gas would crowd my heart causing it to be so uncomfortable, palpitation was constantly bothering me. I could not get the proper elimination either and my system was accumulating so much poison that about four months ago I was taken with an awful attack in my back. Not being able to get the proper nourishment I grew weak until it was with a great effort that I did anything at all. I had tried many different kinds of medicines but with no good results and when I first learned of KruGon I thought it to be "just another" remedy but was finally convinced to give it a trial . . ."

"At the time I began KruGon little did I expect such completely satisfactory results," continued Mr. Klenklen, "But I was determined to put KruGon to a REAL test so I took it faithfully and reglariy and the results it gave me were just what I had been looking for. My digestion was regulated, bowels are now fine and I can eat and enjoy the foods I want without any ill effects afterwards. All that gas and bloating has left me and that back misery has gone too. I sleep good now, feel fine and would not take anything for what this KruGon has accomplished for me."

The KruGon Man is daily meeting the local public at the McFarland and Robinson Drug Co., 104 West Main Street, this city, where he is introducing and explaining the action of this medical discovery.

Surprise Tendered Mr. And Mrs. E. W. Schenk

A group of members of the Christian church at LaMonte Tuesday evening tendered Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Schenk and Bettie V. Hintz a surprise party at the home of Mr. Schenk's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Schenk, two and a half miles east of that place.

E. W. Schenk and family, of Ardmore, Okla., who had been at the Schenk home for a summer visit left Wednesday morning for their home.

An informal program was presented. Miss Lois Orahood gave a reading. Rev. Orahood and E. W. Schenk sang solo numbers and Mrs. W. E. Walker gave several readings that were highly amusing. The group sang several appropriate songs.

Those enjoying the event were: Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Guthrie and sons, George and Ernest, Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. William Rogers and daughter, Miss Mildred, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Terry, Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. McCune, Rev. and Mrs. C. B. Orahood and daughter, Miss Lois, Mrs. Elizabeth R. Andrew, Mr. and Mrs. John Rhoades, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Schenk, Doris and Warren Hintz, Ruth Elaine Price, Melva Rose Keller, Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Schenk and two grandchildren, James and Frederick Hintz, and O. W. Schenk.

Sedalia Couple Wed

At 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, August 10th. Le Roy Renno and Miss Dorothy Mae Aldredge, both of Sedalia, were married by Rev. A. W. Kokendoffer at his residence on South Ohio. Mr. Kenneth Landers a friend of the bride and groom witnessed the ceremony.

After a brief visit to friends the young people will return and reside in Sedalia.

There was a time when a poor pilot was called a "Chinese Ace" but that nickname has long been rubbed out by the expert Asiatic

Society AND Clubs

Mrs. Harold E. Johansen, of Warsaw, formerly Miss Martha Cook, of Sedalia, who has been visiting relatives and friends here and at Syracuse, was entertained at a number of parties.

Miss Virginia Jones entertained a group of Mrs. Johansen's friends at a matinee party Tuesday afternoon. Tuesday evening Miss Mary Frances Staley entertained a small group at a dinner bridge and Wednesday Mrs. Wesley Steele honored Mrs. Johansen at a luncheon. The following guests were entertained, Mrs. Johansen, Miss Virginia Jones, Miss Mary Frances Staley, Mrs. Clay Jones and Mrs. Steele.

Sunday, August 7 was a most enjoyable day for the family of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Broaddus of 1920 South Lamine when all gathered at their home for a family dinner. They had with them their four sons and their families: Mr. and Mrs. Caryl Broaddus and son, Jimmie, of Harrisonville, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Broaddus and son, L. E. of Sedalia; Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Broaddus of Kansas City, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Broaddus of Los Angeles, California. Also Mrs. Broaddus' sister, Mrs. H. A. Hoehns and husband of Tipton and daughter Miss Helena Hoehns of St. Louis. The day was spent in pleasant conversation and taking pictures. It being the first time all had been together for twelve years. His brother, Dr. B. E. Broaddus and wife could not attend.

Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Broaddus left Tuesday noon for Los Angeles after spending a month visiting friends and relatives here.

CHURCH EVENTS

The Truth Seekers class of the First M. E. church met at the home of Mrs. J. Swan, the teacher, on Thursday at 2 o'clock.

It was a birthday party and the birthdays of Mrs. Hattie Quantrance who is 85 years of age, also Mrs. Charles Ernst, Mrs. J. Fred Williams, Mrs. Mildred Neighbors, Mrs. George Whittinger, Mrs. Anna Chappel, Mrs. H. W. Collins and Mrs. C. Bohling who are all over 74 years of age.

The afternoon was passed in a short program. An amateur contest by Major Bowes, Mrs. Ernst taking the part of Major Bowes. A Bible study contest on the books of Judges and a scripture cake contest with Mrs. Anna Chappel and Mrs. W. C. Chappel tying for first prize.

Later refreshments were served to those present.

Mrs. Swan was assisted in entertaining by her daughter, Miss Elsie Swan, Mrs. H. H. Deal and Mrs. Lee Peabody.

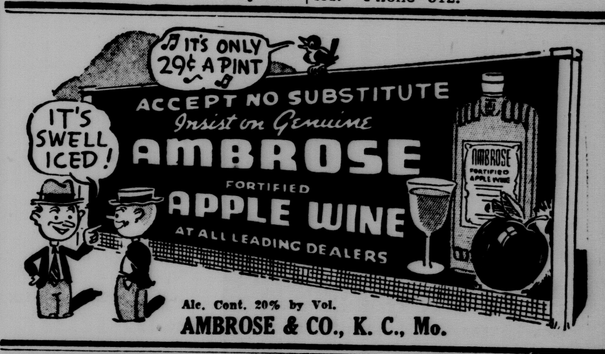

The honor guests were presented with flowers also the president of the class and teacher by the committee in charge.

Surprised On Birthday

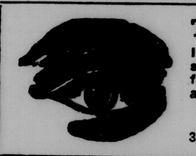

George M. Demand, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Demand was happily surprised Wednesday afternoon when a number of his playmates, who had been invited by his parents, arrived at his home to help him celebrate his thirteenth birthday. The afternoon was spent in playing games. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to the following playmates: Homer Jaeger, Hulen Luetjen, Lilburn Lujin, Gail Oehrke, Ardell Smith, Glen and William Hoerman, Gene Bremer, Donald Lee Holhus, George and Norma Demand. George received a number of nice gfits.

There were 17 accidents in 34,923,731 miles of flight on the scheduled air lines within the U. S. during the last half of 1937—one accident in every 2,054,337 miles.

NEWCOMER WITH DAVIS CUP TEAM

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.——Georg Von Metaxa, the most important newcomer to international tennis, is here with the German Davis cup team to see what can be done about taking the big trophy back to the Fatherland.

The chances, it may be revealed here and now, are very slim, inasmuch as the Germans likely will be trimmed by the Australians in the inter-zone final at Brookline, Mass., next week, and the Australians in turn overwhelmed by Donald Budge, Bobby Riggs and Gene Mako a fortnight later at Germantown, Pa., in the final round.

Still, Von Metaxa is of interest if for no other reason than the manner in which his several nationalities have been scrambled by big time tennis and European diplomacy.

His father is a Greek. Georg was born in Vienna of an Austrian mother. And there matters stood until Adolf Hitler recently reached out and made Austria a part of Germany and Von Metaxa became a member in good standing of the German Davis cup team.

Last year Georg was the champion tennis player of Austria. Now he has no title and is only No. 2 singles player on the German team, right back of Henner Henkel.

He didn't appear to be especially unhappy about it when he arrived with the other members of the squad on the S. S. Europa yesterday. He is a towering youngster of 23, a left-hander, and credited with a terrific service and steady baseline game.

"He's a fine player," said F. Conrad Uhl, veteran non-playing captain of the German team. "I'm afraid he and Henkel haven't played together quite enough to win the cup, but next year maybe they will."

LOUIS PLANS FOUR FIGHTS NEXT YEAR

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Joe Louis, the heavyweight champion, announces he will fight four times in 1939, and it would seem some four fellows are heading for a ring-full of trouble.

Louis will box next in Madison Square Garden in January, according to Promoter Mike Jacobs' plans. Max Baer is expected to be the opposition on the Pacific Coast in April, with June and September bouts outdoors in New York.

Jacobs, who thinks slightly more of Joe than he does of his right eye, said yesterday the champion would not fight again this year. "Joe is willing but his managers ain't" commented Michael, "they're afraid the income tax men will take most of his dough."

Anyway, the shuffler will retire to his softball games and horse shows until such time as the rest of the heavyweights have forgotten what happened in Yankee Stadium the night of June 22.

(In case you've forgotten, it happened to Max Schmeling in one round.)

Jacobs plans an elimination tournament which will include Tommy Farr, Tony Galento, Gunnar Barlund, the Finn, and anyone else with beef and temerity enough to face the champion.

Whether he fights this year or not, Louis is keeping up his reputation as the "fightingest" champion the class ever has seen.

Since he won his title he has defended it against Schmeling, Harry Thomas, Natie Mann and Tommy Farr. There is no doubt he would like to fight again this year. He must at least train, to keep his weight down.

KING BE GUEST AT A HUNTING PARTY

PERTH, Scotland, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Over a thousand Scottish moors, overlaid with pete and often covered with heather, wealthy British and American sportsmen participated today in the most expensive sport in the world.

Down brought the opening of a grouse shooting season it was estimated would cost $10,000,000.

King George VI, presently at Balmoral Castle, Scotland, and Queen Elizabeth are expected to spend several days as the guest of the American financier, J. P. Morgan, who is entertaining a big party in his Scottish home at Gannochy.

The monarch has rented two extensive areas of waste ground for his own shooting, the Glencallater Gairnshiel and Micras Moors. Morgan customarily has five weeks of grouse shooting a year.

Many hunting parties started before daylight so the plump, red-brown birds—related to the American partridge or prairie chicken—could be rushed to London by airplanes and fast trains and be served at luncheon.

The grouse will bring six or seven dollars each in London stores today and tomorrow but next week the price will drop to about a dollar.

Grousing is an expensive luxury reserved for a comparative few. The rental of a moor alone costs anywhere from $500 to $35,000.

Many owners of moors—large tracts, usually more or less wet, with peat and often with heather—get enough from rentals paid by rich Americans to live the year round.

Between 700 and 800 moors are rented annually. The rest are used by owners who can afford to entertain friends. Approximately one-sixth of Scotland—about 3,000,000 acres—is reserved exclusively for grouse shooting and deer stalking.

Experts reported the grouse this year were strong and healthy and predicted good sport, although heavy rains in June may cause small bags in the second half of the season. A good bag on the average moor is about 4,000 birds a season.

WINDSOR PLAYS ATHLETICS SUNDAY

The 75-Million Club of Windsor will come to Sedalia Sunday to meet the Sedalia A's on the Liberty Park baseball diamond. This game is expected to be filled with more thrills for the Sedalia fans as Windsor has a good fast playing organization.

Carpenter, southpaw pitcher for the 75-Million Club, is considered among the best. He has signed with the Cardinals for a tryout the coming year and is good prospects for advancement in baseball.

Manager Don Salmons is expecting a good attendance from the visiting clubs home town, which is a strong supporter of its baseball teams.

Potts Evans, playing manager of the A's has had to make a few changes in his lineup due to the laying off of Ligl.t, who is saving his energy for the Missouri Pacific softball team game.

Evans will probably start Horner on the mound in this contest and this will give Sedalia fans an opportunity to see the Cardinal recruits pitching against each other.

SOFTBALL GAMES TO SEMI-FINALS

Tonight four softball teams will battle for playing positions in the semi-finals of the Central Missouri Softball tournament being sponsored by the City League at the Liberty Park.

At 7:30 o'clock the Rosenthal Clothiers will meet the Stewart Avenue Marketeers in the opener, following this game at 8:30 o'clock the Adco Chemist will meet the Red Cross team of Marshall.

The winners of these two games will meet Monday night in the semi-finals while the second semi-final game will be between the Missouri Pacific Boosters and the M. F. A. team of Marshall.

The games tonight are expected to be fast played and all teams are anxious to continue through to the semi-finals.

PLAYS 180 HOLES OF GOLF IN 14 HOURS

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Ten rounds of golf at an average of 76.2 strokes per eighteen holes was the mark attained by Warren Riepen, unattached St. Joseph golf pro, Thursday.

Riepen spent fourteen hours and thirty minutes on the hilly 6,242 yar par 72 Fairview (municipal) course and his actual playing time was thirteen hours and ten minutes. He played his fastest round in an hour and three minutes and his slowest in an hour and forty-five minutes.

MARATHON GOLF MARK IS 252 HOLES

LOS ANGELES, Ang. 12.—(AP)—Those seeking a world's marathon golfing record since J. Smith Ferebee of Chicago negotiated 144 holes to win $2,500 and a half interest in a plantation must raise their sights. The mark is 252 holes.

Bob Swanson, a Los Angeles caddie, found this out June 19, 1933, when he set out at 4 a. m., to create sufficient stir to get himself a job as a professional.

Swanson shot 200 holes over par 72 Sunset Fields course, averaging 4.5 strokes per hole. But all he got was blisters in 40 miles.

Young Swanson thought he had set a mark.

But his records showed:

Bruce Sutherland once played for 23 hours, completing 252 holes on the Craig-Lockhart course, Edinburg, Scotland. He finished by lantern light.

On June 21, 1923, N. G. (Nick) Morris played 238 holes for an American record over the Breakenridge Municipal course, San Antonio, Tex.

As far back as 1910 golfers were seeking Marathon marks. In that year, H. B. Lumsden played 216 holes in 19 hours at Aberdeen, Scotland.

The stunt has been a common summer pastime since.

The Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ

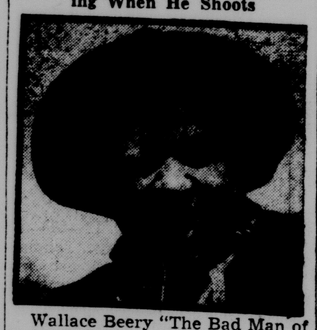

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(AP)—When you are introduced to Eddie Mead's latest fistic importation, he bows and hands you a card reading as follows: "Milica Theodorescu, boxeur international, studiant de sciences commerciales et politiques" . . . What does it all mean? . . . We bite . . . Anyway the guy would seem to pack some class out of the ring if not in it. . . . Forty-five minutes before the Ambers-Armstrong show was to start, Mike Jacobs counted the corporal's guard in the Polo Grounds and said: "I am being crucified, this thing will be a private fight" . . . Gunnar Barlund is the only fight pro Finland ever developed.

Loyalty in the prize ring: Pedro Montanez's contract with his manager (Lew Burston) expired. . . . Another chap offered Pedro $10,000 to sign with him . . . Pedro said "no" . . . A week later this fellow increased the bid . . . The next day Pedro went to Burston and said, "write up a new contract on the old terms" . . . The former Helen Hicks says Patty Berg will be the next women's golf champion and we wouldn't be surprised.

Any member of the Green Bay Packers who eats hamburger sandwiches during the training season will be soaked a $5 fine . . . It is generally agreed the week's postponement will be harder on Ambers than Armstrong . . . Everybody glad to see Arnold Herber, Green Bay Packers passing star, out of that De Pere, Wis., hospital after an influenza attack. . . . Fans here have quit the Giants cold.

Tennessee's new amateur golf champion, Johnny Cummings, chews tobacco while he plays . . . Me and you bofe, boy . . . Bucky Harris says Joe Gordon of the Yanks is the best rookie of the year . . . J. Roy Stockton might pick up a piece of change for himself by writing the Messrs. Breadon and Rickey's reply to the Dizzy Dean blasts in Liberty.

TENNIS COMMITTE SUSPENDS KOVACS

CINCINNATI, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Stanley W. Lewis, member of the executive committee of the Western Lawn Tennis Association, announced Thursday the suspension for one year of Frankie Kovacs, Oakland, Calif., tennis star, from all tournaments sanctioned by the association.

The suspension, Lewis, said "was based primarily on Kovacs' conduct in the tristate tourney" here June 25 to July 4. Kovacs played in only one match, pleaded an injured ankle and, Lewis added, appeared June 30 in a tournament match at Glen Cove, L. I.

Kellogg's ALL-AMERICAN BASEBALL POLL
Any man, woman, or youngster has a good chance to win one of 1,004 weekly cash prizes! You don't have to be a baseball expert—or even a fan!
Vote now! Rush those last-minute ballots for Shortstop. Mailing deadline is midnight tomorrow. Next week, help your favorite Left Fielder make the Team!
MORE THAN $5,000.00 CASH PRIZES WEEKLY!
$500.00 . . . First Prize
$100.00 . Second Prize
$50.00 . . Third Prize
$25.00 . . Fourth Prize
AND 1000 $5 CASH PRIZES
Cash Prizes for grocers, too! Winning ball players get brand new Buicks!
Anyone can win up to $500.00 any week in Kellogg's All-American Baseball Poll!
Here's how easy it is. Just pick a player for the position of the week, and tell in 30 words or less why you like him. A winning statement can be as simple and natural as this: "I like him because even though he plays on a team that's an 'in-and-outer', he's in there every day, playing championship ball". But you don't have to give a technical baseball reason for your preference. You can like a player because he's handsome—or good-natured. And you can win any prize, any week, whether the player you choose gets the most votes or not.
Till midnight tomorrow you still have a chance to vote for Shortstop. Be sure to mail your vote today! And next week, vote for Left Fielder!
HOW TO VOTE:
1. Write on plain paper or on the official entry ballot obtainable from your grocer (It contains full rules and information).
2. Name your favorite Shortstop or Left Fielder, and give name of his team (He may be any professional player in any league today).
3. Complete in 30 additional words or less this statement: "I like him because . . .".
4. Give your name and address.
5. Give your grocer's name and address.
6. Attach two tops from packages of Kellogg's Corn Flakes and mail to Kellogg All-American Committee, Howard-Clark Bldg., Chicago, Ill.
7. Your vote for Shortstop must be postmarked not later than midnight, Saturday, August 13. For Left Fielder not later than midnight, Saturday, August 20.

PARENT-TEACHER GROUPS IN SCHOOL OF INSTRUCTION

All Day Session Of Interest Held At First Baptist Church

(By MRS. G. B. OAKS)

The Parent-Teacher School of Instruction given by the members of the Sedalia and Pettis County Councils met Wednesday, August 10, in the First Baptist church.

An interesting and instructive morning session was presided over by Mrs. William Reed, president, Sedalia Council. Mrs. Ernest Liebel read the devotional the P. T. A. creed. The group responded heartily to group singing under the direction of Mrs. L. Kirkpatrick.

Mrs. P. R. Burford district president of the Congress of Parent-Teachers, gave an inspiring talk on "Significance of the Parent-Teacher Movement." Mrs. Burford stated the founding of this movement was not one that had just been conceived, but planned so that the aims and objects be inspirational and educational for all people with or without children. The nationwide responsibility of every individual, to every child was emphasized. The importance of changing by-laws to meet the needs of the ever changing world and thus assisting the parents and teachers in guiding their children by special training for the parents through this movement was emphasized.

"Kit of Tools" was the topic of an informative talk given by Mrs. M. E. Green. She stated that in all professions a complete set of tools with the knowledge to use them was an important factor. She used the packet of literature, each unit president receives each year, as the kit of tools for this movement's work and explained the importance of each chairman understanding and referring to this material.

A demonstration of leaf print making was interesting and entertaining and well given by Helen Walker and teammate Helen Harms, from the 4-H club of Liberty school The P. T. A. of that school sponsors the 4-H club work and it was recommended the P. T. A. in other communities sponsor the clubs when possible.

Instructive Talks

Instructive talks were given on "Officers and Their Duties," by Mrs. C. F. Appel and Mrs. E. E. Bybee.

A model Parent-Teacher session with Miss Mamie McCormick presiding was instructive and followed with enthusiastic discussion. "Music" was the subject around which the unified meeting was planned. Miss Florence Holburt, one of the music supervisors for the Pettis County music project, gave an interesting report on the project and gave the aims and what had been accomplished during the summer. Esther Leiter, 6-year old daughter of Mrs. C. F. Leiter, gave a piano solo remarkably well, having had only 15 lessons. Mr. C. F. Scotten, county superintendent of schools announced that this unusually successful project was to be carried out during the winter. Other members taking part in the meeting were Mrs. J. C. Brown, Miss Mary B. Kesterson of Olive Branch, Miss Margaret Hill, Lovelace, Miss Nina Yeager, Striped College.

Luncheon Served

The morning session adjourned at noon to enjoy a covered dish luncheon and social hour. Mrs. Roy Gerster, Mrs. C. F. Menderhauser and Mrs. Smith were in charge of the dining room.

Mrs. M. E. Burke, president of the Pettis County Council presided during the afternoon session. Mrs. Green introduced Miss Elizabeth Guy, Pettis County health nurse, who gave an outline of the plans of work she is to assist with in the rural school health program in the near future. Miss Guy urges the cooperation of all parents in the county so that these plans will be successfully fulfilled.

Committee Activities and Projects were given and discussed by Mrs. Paul Baum, Mrs. William Reed, Mrs. B. G. Oaks, Mrs. M. E. Green, Mrs. A. B. Burke and Mrs. Smith.

Mrs. C. E. Van Horn gave an inspiring talk on "Program Planning," stressing the importance of a planned program, one that is unified, educational and entertaining. Each program must create a fine community spirit if meetings are to be well attended she stated.

The rural patrons outnumbered the city, but each group was alert and enthusiastic adjourning and dividing into groups for on hours conference. Mrs. C. E. Van Horn, city and Mrs. M. E. Green, rural, were the leaders.

Exhibits of scrap books made by different units and various books for the studying of the movement with a neat display of leaf prints made by the Liberty 4-H club were given much attention. The display was made by Miss Mamie McCormick and committee.

MRS. REED BLAMES BOILING AND KICKING WHISKEY INSIDE SON FOR SHOTGUN KILLING

LESLIE REED
Held on Murder Charge Here

"There isn't a better child in the world" said Mrs. Mary Reed, mother of Leslie Reed, sr., charged with the murder of Ed. Williams a week ago, as the state began prosecution of her son at a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Bell Hutchinson Thursday afternoon. Reed after eluding police for almost a week was captured early Wednesday night.

While her son was being bound over to the criminal court Mrs. Reed carried on with her work in the west Broadway home where she has been employed for over 25 years.

"I don't know of any trouble between Leslie and Mr. Williams in all the time he had lived with us", she said at her home, 412 West Pettis street last night.

"Full of That Stuff"

"I don't believe anything would have happened that day if Leslie had been all right" she said. "All this trouble started when he came home full of that stuff—it was boiling and kicking in him and it threw him off, Leslie had been gone all the night before and that day and when he did come home he was so drunk that the least thing made him mad."

"When I came from work, Leslie wasn't home and Mr. Williams was sitting at the side of the house sewing. He was mending a tear in Junior's pants so I wouldn't find out about it. Junior went to the park and came back with some letters to mail. He was standing talking to Leslie when Mr. Williams called him. The argument started there and I guess Leslie was like a lot of other people when they're drunk—he just couldn't think of anything but getting him gun and shooting.

"I know Leslie wasn't in his right mind or he wouldn't have done it."

"What is going to happen now I don't know. I worry about it until I don't know what to do. I don't know, I don't think anybody knows, what a man will do, after something happens like this".

Reed waived his preliminary hearing Wednesday and was committed to the county jail. He is being held without bond.

GROCERS MEET AT SHOPS WITH BOARD OF THE BOOSTERS

Discussion On Matters Of Mutual Interest For Better Business

A very enthusiastic and interesting meeting was held in the office of the superintendent of shops, G. T. Callender, on Thursday evening when the executive board of the Sedalia Booster club and the officers of that organization met with the Retail Grocers Association relative to the new Booster movement.

P. R. Nichols, Chief Booster, presided and explained briefly the purpose of the meeting. He then introduced Mr. Callender, who spoke briefly concerning the railroad situation in Sedalia, "To create a better feeling between the employees of the shops and the merchants and business men in this city is our aim. The 27 per cent which represents the Missouri Pacific employees and their dependents in Sedalia are entitled to some consideration. We want to help you in your problems and we want you to help us. Increased work in our shops creates more employment and we are fortunate in securing for our shops additional work which provides employment for many more employees. This community is on the boom and we want to further the interests in this community and the Missouri Pacific railroad," Mr. Callender concluded.

Several In Responses

Mr. Nichols then called on the representatives of the merchants present and they responded with short talks, all of which were of an interesting nature. Those responding were: Andy Berry, Mrs. J. E. Coyle, George Berthoux, Lloyd Cramer, M. D. Weathers, Fred Gehlken, Gus Gehlken, N. L. Hopper, Harry Kanter, Isadore Kanter, Louis Meints, Virgil Corson, Dick Gray, J. Silverman, George Brown, L. C. Corson, Charles Solon, State Fair Grocery, "Bobby" Kahrs, Landon Welch, Mrs. Helen Owens, Ernest Goldsmith and W. F. Atkinson.

Many bits of information were discussed that would be of mutual interest to those present and many good suggestions were made. The grocery business and its relation to the shop men were discussed in a series of short talks by those present.

Following the discussion Mr. Nichols called upon the members of the executive board and the officers of the Sedalia Booster club who responded with short accounts of the progress of the Booster movement to date and asked the full support and cooperation of all present in the movement which is for the betterment of Sedalia and the community and for the Missouri Pacific railroad.

Those speaking on behalf of the Booster club were C. R. Wood, chairman of the executive board, Walter Wagner, boilermaker, R. J. Fender, machinists, E. L. Ellsworth, firemen and oilers, P. S. Gordon, reclaim plant, Joe Toler, carmen, P. R. Nichols, sheet metal workers, W. D. Barton, blacksmiths, Harry Satterwhite, clerks, Raymond Prine, secretary of the club, George Burlett, treasurer, George Robb, chairman of the business solicitation, and Harry Homans, assistant chief booster.

OBITUARY

Funeral of Mrs. Allen

Funeral services for Mrs. Jessie K. Allen, who died at her home in Otterville Wediesday night, will be held at Hopewell Baptist church, at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, the Rev. Geo. A. Craig to officiate.

The following friends will serve as pallbearers, John Bente, T. R. Cramner, Charles Leach, L. C. Wilkerson, C. L. Bryan and F. L. Cole.

Mrs. Allen was a daughter of the late Edmund and Awry Baxter, and was the youngest and last surviving of their eight children.

She suffered a paralytic stroke a few days ago, and passed away Wednesday night.

Born in Nebraska, July 5, 1874, Mrs. Allen was married to James W. Allen, of Otterville, at Tipton, December 15, 1897. A son, Hubert Allen, of Chicago, was born of the union. Mr. Allen died in 1900.

Mrs. Allen united with the Hopewell Baptist church when she was very young, and had remained a faithful christian woman until her death. It was always her pleasure, not only to attend church services, but also to assist in any church work.

Mrs. Bertha W. Gehlken

Mrs. Bertha Wineford Jones Gehlken, 46, wife of Albert Gehlken, 324 North Engineer avenue, passed away at the Bothwell hospital about 6:15 o'clock Thursday night.

Mrs. Gehlken had been in poor health for the past six months.

She was born in Pettis county September 4, 1891 and was married in 1909 to Albert Gehlken in Sedalia, who survives as do the following children: Edward, Joe, Fred, William, Stanley, Henry, Dorothy Mae, and Wanda Lee of the family home, Mrs. Henry Powers of Marshall, Mrs. Raymond Humphrey and Mrs. LeRoy Estes of Sedalia. Also surviving is a sister Mrs. Elmer Stephens of Sedalia. Also five grandchildren.

Preceding her in death were two children.

The body was taken to the McLaughlin Funeral Chapel where services will be conducted at 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning with the Reverend J. R. Sumners, officiating.

Pall bearers will be friends of the family.

Interment will be in the Crown Hill cemetery.

Miss Margaret Winzenburg

Miss Margaret Winzenburg, 60 years old, passed away at the Bothwell hospital about 7 o'clock this morning following a lingering illness.

Miss Winzenburg was born at Clinton, Mo., January 1, 1878 the daughter of the late A. W. and Angeline Winzenburg. She attended and graduated from the Curry School of Expression in Boston, Massachusetts.

For forty-nine years she resided in Sedalia and community, and for several years operated a studio for dramatic art.

Surviving are one sister, Mrs. Alice Voigt, of Winfield, Kansas, two brothers Henry Winzenburg of R. F. D. No. 2 with whom she resided part time, and Louis Winzenburg of Portland, Ore.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Ewing Funeral Home at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Complete arrangements have not been made pending word from relatives.

The body is at the funeral home.

Funeral of J. M. Wild.

The body of John Michael Wild, former Sedalian, who died at Raymond, Wash., Tuesday, August 9, will arrive in Sedalia at 10:39 o'clock Saturday morning, and will be taken to the Gillespie Funeral Home. Services will be held there at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, with the Rev. Walter Arnold, of the East Sedalia Baptist church, officiating.

He will be buried in the cemetery at Bethlehem about six miles south of Sedalia, near his former home.

Pallbearers will be George, Will, Joe and Fred Meyer, and Harry Jones, brothers-in-law of the deceased, and Clarence Wadleigh, a former neighbor.

Mr. Wild was born at Winfield, Ind., Oct. 23, 1872, the son of B. L. and Mary Wild. At the age of 12 years he came with his parents to Missouri and lived on a farm near Smithton for several years.

Ferbluary 22, 1905 he was married to Mary Meyer, also of near Smithton.

To this union were born four children, Oscar, Amiel and Velma of the home and Mildred Johnston, wife of Harry Johnston of Raymond, Wash., who with his wife, survives him. He is also survived by his aged mother, Mrs. Mary Wild, two sisters, Mrs. Anna Gerken of St. Louis and Mrs. M. J. Clifford of Sedalia and one brother, A. B. Wild also of Sedalia. His father and four sisters preceded him in death. Mr. Wild was a member of the Bethlehem Baptist church near Valda. About two years ago he with his family moved to Raymond, Wash., where he lived.

FORMER SEDALIANS SHOW WINNING HORSES

Two former Sedalians, B. B. Tucker, of Fort Worth, and Harry Lathrop, of Houston, Texas, were among those who showed winning horses at the forty-ninth Audrain County Fair, at Mexico, Mo., Thursday.

Shown by Lathrop "Hell and Maria," a mare from the Sewell stables, Houston, finished first in the $100 Bennett Champ Clark stake.

DOUBLE HANGING OF SLAYERS OF A FEDERAL AGENT

Robert Suhay And Glenn Applegate To Gallows At Leavenworth

LEAVENWORTH, Kas., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Robert Suhay and Glenn Applegate, New York gunmen convicted of murdering W. W. Baker, federal bureau of investigation agent, were hanged at the federal penitentiary here early today in the first double execution in Kansas in more than 70 years.

Applegate went to his death with the same indifference that has characterized his stay in prison. Suhay gritted his teeth and was making an obvious effort to control himself as he mounted the 13 steps of the gallows.

Among the 27 witnesses were H. H. Baker, Yuma, Ariz., attorney, father of the slain FBI agent, and B. B. Baker, his 18-year-old son.

Guards entering the cell block found Applegate asleep.

He refused to converse with the prison chaplain with the assertion "you'll have to go a hell of a long way to visit with me."

After the ropes were adjusted, Applegate turned to Suhay and said:

"Let's shake and go together." Suhay made no response.

Refused Spiritual Advisers

Both the 45-year-old Applegate and Suhay, 26, refused to receive spiritual advisers.

"You can't do me any good. All of my friends are in hell," Applegate said.

When Ray Buschausen, deputy U. S. marshal, appeared with the death warrant, Applegate said:

"The scafford can't be too high nor the time too quick for me."

Baker was slain April 16, 1937, when Suhay and Applegate shot their way out of a trap set in the Topeka postoffice by federal agents who sought them in connection with the robbery of a Katonah, N. Y., bank. Suhay was shot in the wrist.

They were arrested that night by Sheriff Homer Sylvester of Plattsmouth, Neb., and his brother, Cass, without firing a shot after Suhay and Applegate had made a wild, desperate ride and kidnaped a doctor to treat Suhay's wound.

Both Suhay and Applegate had long criminal records and were on parole when Baker was slain.

Both Baker and his son appeared emotionless as they watched the executions.

After Suhay and Applegate were pronounced dead the elder Baker said:

"I am satisfied the law has taken its course. The men got what they needed. I appreciate the efforts of all who aided in bringing them to justice. They killed a mighty fine boy for no reason at all."

Among the other witnesses were Dwight Brantley, head of the FBI office in Kansas City, L. B. Reed, FBI agent under Brantley, and Dr. S. N. Hibbard, the Sabetha, Kas., physician who was kidnaped by the gunmen on their wild ride through Kansas.

The trap was sprung at 3:01 a. m. Suhay was pronounced dead at 3:07 and Applegate 12 minutes later.

Both men asked that their bodies be cremated and sent to relatives.

The execution was the third in Kansas since 1870. Carl Panzran, federal prisoner convicted of slaying a guard, was handed in the penitntiary September 5, 1930. Another federal prisoner from Indian Territory was hanged at Wichita in 1888. The state has not inflicted capital punishment since 1870 although it has been provided for certain crimes except for a 28-year interval from 1907 to 1935.

COMPANIONS OF OUTLAWS ARRESTED

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 12.—(AP)—The arrest of two women companions of Floyd Hamilton and Huron Walters, southwest outlaws who are being hunted for the $34,000 holdup of a Woodriver, Ill., bank messenger on August 5, was announced by the federal bureau of investigation office here today.

The announcement named the women, both divorcees, as Ruby May Roberts, 20, of Vivian, La., and Lois Weber, 20, of Dupo, Ill.

FBI agents said each woman had pleaded guilty to violation of the Dyer act in connection with the escapades of Hamilton and Walters in several midwestern states.

Divorce Petitioned

A divorce petition was filed in circuit court today by Granville McCormick against Helen M. McCormick, to whom he was married August 29, 1936. General indignities are alleged.

Frank Armstrong is attorney for the plaintiff.

SOME RECOVERY ON NERVOUSNESS TO STOCK MARKET

In Late Rally Part Of Losses In Heavy Selling Recouped

NEW YORK, Aug. 12—Wall street recovered partly today from a spell of nervousness over European affairs, spotlighted by another rush for gold and American dollars in London.

On a late rally, the stock market recouped part of the losses suffered on a heavy wave of selling earlier in the day.

Down $1 to more than $3 at the height of the decline, many stocks regained half or more of the losses.

European exchange rates also stiffened against the dollar and Chicago grain prices made a firmer stand when the selling passed its crest.

Brokers said markets here apparently had been unnerved by reports of military preparations in Germany and fear a move on Czechoslovakia impended. The demand for gold in the London open market, lifting the price of the metal there to the highest since November, 1931, was accepted as a symptom of uneasiness on the continent.

Following its fast advance in June and early July, the stock market appeared vulnerable to increased offerings. Steel, Motors, Mail Order, rubber and other groups leading the mid-year upswing gave ground readily.

Foreigners, it appeared, were converting money into dollars as well as gold and further shipments of the yellow metal from Europe to New York were expected.

Hopes for business improvement at home still were high in financial circles. But European developments seemed to have overshadowed the domestic recovery trend temporarily in the judgment of the market place.

Capital has been moving out of the British pound, the French franc and other European currencies into gold in London and the dollar for some time. The shift quickened during the Japanese-Russian border clash.

Since July 26, more than $16,000,000 of the metal had been engaged in London for shipment to New York and the continued pressure on the British currency indicated more may be engaged to facilitate the withdrawal of money from Europe.

Surplus of Exports

Aggravating the situation, exchange men said, had been a big surplus of merchandise exports from the United States this year, necessitating movement of gold to this country to balance the international trade scales.

This unbalance in the trade accounts was traced partly to imports of raw materials and machines into Europe for rearmament programs, including the extensive British arms plans.

Also augmenting the United States' tremendous store of gold, now totaling about $13,033,000,000 has been a steady sale of the metal to the United States by Japan to help finance war purchases.

Since the end of February, Japan has shipped nearly $100,000,000 gold here, making a total of more than $350,000,000 since March.

The fall in the leading European currencies was checked early in the week when the British pound approached its former parity against the dollar around $4.87. It had come down from about $5.02.

Before the New York exchange opened today, however, the rush for gold in London again was on. Cables reported heavy selling of leading European currencies for conversion in dollars and the metal under this selling, the pound returned to the lows of the recent decline.

The disturbance in foreign exchange markets was accompanied by a variety of rumors of a possible realignment of currencies, preliminary to completion of a trade treaty between the United States and Great Britain.

Rush of Gold Buyers

LONDON, Aug. 12—(AP)—Gold buyers rushed into the London market today in apparently increasing anxiety to get their holdings into safekeeping until uncertainty is removed from the world political and financial situation.

The price of gold rose 3.5 pence to 142 shillings and eight pence ($4.78) an ounce, the highest level since November, 1936.

Banking circles declared the large-scale gold demand reflected a desire on the part of continental interests to gain security for their capital even at the sacrifice of interest yield and losses on securities.

While invested in gold their capital would yield no interest and they would risk some loss if the gold price declines.

Buyers were said to feel less risk of a loss on gold in later selling than in holding securities which might decline in event of unfavorable political developments. Thus gold-buying was described as largely cheap investment insurance until fears of such political and financial developments are dispelled.

Long Range Bombers Enable Navy to Maintain Active Patrol of America's 'First Line of Defense' in the Pacific

Routine Flights Give Assurance Against Unseen Approach by Attacking Naval Force

BY HAROLD KEEN
NEA Service Special Correspondent

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Aug. 11.—With daily crises in the Far East drawing attention to the Pacific aerial patrol of America's "first line of defense" in that area is rapidly becoming a reality becoming a reality.

Almost 250 long-range naval bombing planes will be at their stations by the end of the year. The U. S. navy for the first time is in position to guard the long sea-lanes that mean so much to defense of the vital west coast area.

Mass flights of bombing planes in the course of routine delivery to Hawaii and Panama—distances of from 2500 to 3000 miles—show that navy flyers would be able to pick out any attacking force approaching the United States from the west long before it neared continental United States.

Stationed in Hawaii, in the Canal Zone, Alaska, San Diego, Seattle, and other strategic points these giant air cruisers with a range of 4000 miles could maintain a continuous patrol if necessary.

An enemy naval force planning a military landing in the United States would probably have to base on either Alaska, Hawaii, or the Mexican coast near where President Roosevelt spent part of his fishing vacation on the cruiser Houston.

What Would Happen in War

Consider a hypothetical situation of an enemy fleet moving toward Alaska to establish a base there. If it were not for the air force, such a fleet might stealthily draw so near the coast that it would be too late for the American fleet to intercept them. But with the long-range bombers on patrol, the situation is different.

A squadron stationed at the new air base at Sitka, Alaska, would undoubtedly, while on a routine patrol flight, note the strange war craft below. The alarm would be broadcast immediately. Every unit of the U. S. fleet would spring immediately to action.

From the Sand Point Naval Air Station at Seattle, and from the North Island bast in San Diego harbor, more patrol bombers would dash north to aid the reconnaissance. Within a few hours, the fleet commander-in-chief would have before him information on the number, type, armament, and strength of the enemy vessels, their direction, probable speed, and apparent destination.

Decks cleared for action, heading for a known area where it could meet the enemy, the U. S. fleet would dash to sea.

Defend East Coast, Too

The concentration of the navy's bombers in the Pacific defense area does not mean that the east coast is left helpless against a possible attack from that quarter. Three times during the past year, a demilitarized plane of the exact type the navy is now using has been flown by private citizens from San Diego to New York or Miami, crossing without a hitch the 3000 miles of terrain where a naval plane could find few landings.

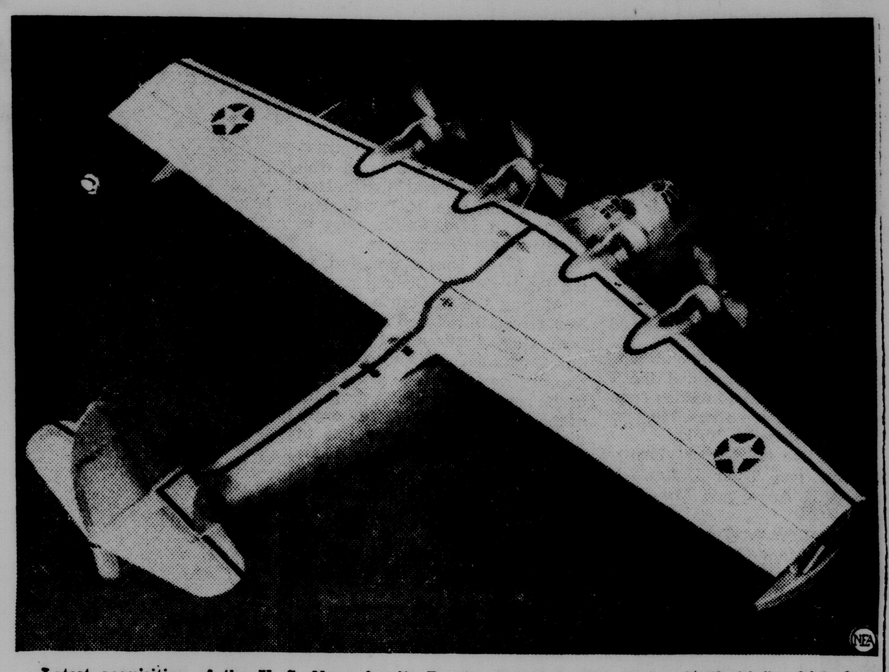

That means that in less than 20 hours after need was apparent naval bombers could leave their west coast base, cross the United States, swoop down in eastern harbors, refuel, and proceed out to sea on their mission of defense.

The navy already has tested four-motored "air dreadnaughts" with such cruising ability that they could speed from San Diego to Hawaii, continue 12500 miles beyond in search of an approaching fleet, reconnoiter, drop bombs, and return to Pearl Harbor without a stop.

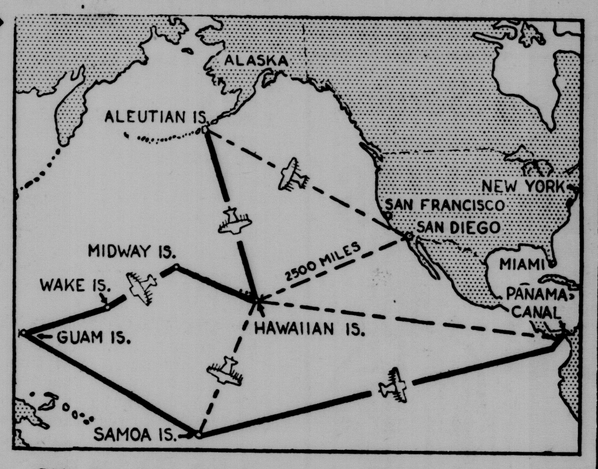

Patrolling The "Fence"

The "defense frontier" of the United States in the Pacific is the longest in the world. Draw an imaginary arc from the Aleutian Islands off Alaska to Hawaii, then pointing west like a crooked finger through Midway, Wake, and Guam, and then slanting back southwest through Pago Pago, American Samoa, and back to the Canal Zone.

That is the front line of defense which the development of the navy's long-range bombers makes it possible to patrol. Without denying that the fleet remains the backbone of the defense, the cruising bombers give that fleet a nervous system and an extended vision that greatly enlarge its strength.

Latest acquisition of the U. S. Navy for its Pacific Patrol is this "flying battleship" which has an operating radius of 5000 miles and can make better than 200 miles an hour. This PBY-type ship carries thousands of pounds of bombs and can defend itself from any direction. Note the barely-visible machine-gun turret in the tail of the ship, and the glassed-in operating turret in the front, which connects with all parts of the ship by telephone. Unique also is the ingenious arrangement by which the wing-tips fold down to act as pontoons and "brakes" on landing, but can be retracted to form the end of the wing, giving greater lifting power in flight.

This map shows how the navy can defend vast areas of the Pacific with huge bombers capable of maintaining constant aerial patrol of the "defense line" connecting America's far-flung possessions. The heavy black line encloses what is ordinarily considered the U. S. zone of defense. The navy's observation bombers have proved their ability to fly regularly between any two points on the line, or back and forth to the big bases on the mainland.

Three Killed As Autos Collide Thursday Night

ished and the impact was so terrific that the front ends of both cars were driven back, pinning the victims between the back of their seats and the dashboard of their respective automobiles. Mr. Hawley's body was badly crushed, his legs being broken, his face was lacerated in several places, and the steering column of the car was shoved straight up and down, the wheel being shoved through the windshield extending upwards.

The Gay girl was pinned under the steering wheel of the Buick coupe and the body of the car was practically torn from the chassis. The girl jaw was smashed down on the right side, and she likewise suffered a crushed chest.

The boy was pinned between the seat and the dash board, his head striking the shatter-proof glass and knocked it out. The injury on his left temple is believed to have killed him. He also had a severe laceration on the left side of the temple.

Mr. Hawley was identified by papers found in the car and in his clothing. He was a high school text book salesman for the McMillian Publishing Co., having his headquarters at his home in Marshall. He was about fifty years old.

Miss Gay was identified by persons who were near the scene of the crash, and her identification was further obtained from Earl Bahr Spangenberg.

Identified By License

The Staffenhagen boy was identified from a driver's license found in his billfold which had been dropped in the car in the crash. The license gave his age as 18, and his home as Sibley, Iowa.

For a time it was believed the boy might be from Sedalia as a high school graduation ring of 1937, resembled that of the Smith Cotton high school, although on the inside was engraved "D. L. S." "Sibley", at first the authorities believed his name might be Silbey.

Sheriff Eaton in searching the Chevrolet car found the billfold with the license, and he turned that over to Prosecutor Brady.

The bodies were removed to the Eickhoff Funeral Home, in Cole Camp.

Later the body of Mr. Hawley was removed to the Short-McCrary Funeral Home in Marshall.

Funeral services will be held at the Trinity Episcopal church at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The rector, the Rev. M. B. Williams will officiate.

Mr. Hawley is survived by his daughter Miss Barbara Hawley, 20, a student in the University of Missouri, who resides parttime in De Soto, with her mother. He is also survived by his mother of the home in Marshall.

The body of Miss Gay is being sent to Lafayette, Indiana. No information regarding the family could be obtained.

The authorities are endeavoring to contact relatives of the boy in Sibley, Iowa.

FUNERAL OF YOUTH DYING IN CHURCH

The funeral services for Lawrence Olson, "demon possessed" who died at the Full Gospel church, Fifth street and Hancock avenue, in Sedalia Tuesday afternoon after collapsing before the altar while receiving prayers to have "evil spirits" removed from his body, were conducted by Reverend C. B. Swanson, of the Full Gospel church, at 10 o'clock this morning at the Mt. Zion church, south of Warrensburg.

More than 250 members of the Full Gospel church in Warrensburg and Sedalia crowded into the church to pray for the youth.

Reverend Swanson used a revival service and his subject was "Belief and Salvation Through Prayer." He was assisted by Mrs. Ethel Smith, a follower of the Full Gospel religion.

The boy, a mute since birth, had sought aid through Reverend Swanson, in the Full Gospel church in Sedalia, and attended regularly the past several days prayers which were offered for him.

He became violent about 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and it was necessary for six men to hold him until he collapsed. Although the boy had been reported to have been an epileptic, it was declared by his parents he was not such, but was a robust boy who was afflicted with "evil spirits."

Pall bearers for the boy were friends and neighbors of the family, Clarence Marr, Lon Marker, Lawson Lockard, Vaughn Smith, Delmar Van Blarcum and Mannie Olson.

Interment was in the Mt. Zion church cemetery.

SUNDAY SERVICES IN THE CHURCHES

Religious Programs in The Sedalia Churches

FIRST CHRISTIAN: A. W. Kdkendoffer, pastor. Mrs. H. O. Foraker, organist and L. J. Harned, Sunday School superintendent. The school meets at 9:30. Morning worship and communion 10:45. Subject of discourse, "Happiness, Life's Supreme Objective." Special music, a duet by Ray Holler and Mrs. B. F. Boland, "How Beautiful Upon the Mountains." Evening worship in the union services at the park beginning at 7:45. A cordial welcome to all.

METHODIST, SOUTH: Fifth and Osage. J. C. English, pastor. The church school, Ben Robinson, general superintendent, meets every Sunday morning at 9:30. Classes and departments are arranged for all age groups. Visitors are invited to share the fellowship of study and worship. The morning worship service is at 10:30 each Sunday. The subject of the pastor's sermon Sunday morning will be "Spiritualized Flesh." The choir will sing an anthem. The senior and intermediate Epworth leagues meet each Sunday evening at 6:45. Young people will find a religious fellowship in these groups and a welcome if they attend. The congregation will join others in the union services in Liberty park at 7:45.

IMMANUEL EVANGELICAL AND REFORMED: Fourth and Vermont. Rev. Oscar J. Rumpf, pastor. Church school at 9 with Bill Wilson, superintendent. The morning worship begins at 9:30. The pastor will speak on the theme, "Buddhism and Christianity." He will use some of the Missouri Bible College "curios" of Buddhism in presenting the sermon which will be interesting to children as well as adults. A table containing these symbols and curios will be put up in the church that all who come may see them. Next week these will be used in the Hall of Religion at the fair. The Purpose of the Church

The Reverend Joseph R. Segor, D. D. says, "The one thing that the church is called to do in such a day as this, is to keep alive in men an awareness of God. Its purpose is to create in men and women a sense of reverence."

"Its fundamental object and aim is to make people sensitive to intangible values and invisible forces."

The needed social, political and economic reforms will naturally follow when the concept of God is reverently held. Why not accept the invitation and COME TO CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY? D. Carl Yoder.

Dr. E. Stanley Jones, upon his return to America, will give addresses upon the campuses of fourteen colleges and universities this fall and winter. He is to address the ministers of New York City and vinicity on Monday morning, September 26, in the Marble Collegiate church.

At the June meeting of the Presbytery of New York, it was announced that many of the ministers of the metropolitan area were planning to forego their annual summer vacations next year and maintain "open house" within their churches to extend the benefits of religion to visitors to the World's Fair.

A proposal that public school boards and superintendents "give serious consideration to the teaching of the Ten Commandments in the school systems as approved principles of social behavior" is a part of the six-point program adopted by the Union County Council for the Prevention of Crime in Youth of Elizabeth, N. J.

A medieval mystery play, "Adam and Eve," and a pageant, "The Triumph of Rheims Cathedral," were enacted in Rheims on July 9th to celebrate the complete restoration of the famous Rheims Cathedral, which was nearly completely destroyed during the World War. The restoration was marked by a full program of ecclesiastical and governmental ceremony.

The Lutherans of America are this year celebrating the 300th anniversary of coming to this country. A notable part of the celebration took place June 27, 28 and 29, when the Crown Prince and Crown Princess of Sweden arrived in America to participate in the great tercentenary observance of the landing of the first Swedish colonists. The State Church of Sweden is Lutheran. The observance included religious ceremonies, the unveiling of a monument, presented by the Crown Princess, a gift from the people of Sweden to the people of the United States, parades and luncheons.

An Honest Epitaph

There was once a man who insisted that he have an honest epitaph on his tomstone, and he suggested just what he wanted. It was "Born——— a human being; Died——— a wholesale grocer." When he was informed that such inscription needed exegesis, he replied: "I was so busy selling groceries that I did not have time to get married and have a family. There was a whole area of life crowded out by the grocery business. I was so busy selling groceries that I didn't have time to travel, even though I had the money. I was so busy selling groceries I did not have time for the drama, for lectures, for concerts, for reading. I was so busy selling groceries I did not have time for community service—religious, social, political. All of these areas of life were pushed out by the grocery business. I was successful. I became a wholesaler. But I was so busy making a living, I never had time to live." —Clyde E. Wildmer, in Christian Century Pulpit.

The Basis for Communism

Communism thrives only when the political, economic and religious conditions furnish the right kind of soil for it. We need not be alarmed about propaganda, but we need to be alarmed when conditions prevail on which communism thrives.

Unemployed hungry men became an easy prey to any proposed form of government that promises food and shelter to whenever the economic condition is on the rocks and men are thrown out of their jobs and they and their families go hungry, communism has an appeal.

A decadent religious faith opens the way for atheism which walks hand in hand with communism.—D. Carl Yoder.

OPEN AIR SERVICES ARE BEING CONTINUED

(By Church Reporter)

Open air services continue with increasing interest on the ball grounds north of the Missouri Pacific coal chutes. Two of the Boy Scouts, Junior Keed and Orval Elliott, have rendered excellent service in taking care of the chairs, lights and organ. Dr. Holbert, his daughter, and Miss Ott were with us Wednesday night.

The objective of these services is to establish a Sunday school in northeast Sedalia. Mrs. Jones has permission from those in authority to put a building on the grounds as soon as possible.

Saturday evening Judge Hoffman will give a talk to the children on the Sunday school lesson. Dr. Holbert will have charge of the music.

REV. ENGLISH TO PRESENT SERMON

The union services sponsored by the churches at Liberty Park during the evenings of July and August have been well attended. The loud speaking system makes it possible for everyone to hear the music and the sermons. Visitors are invited to share in these open air services.

Rev. J. C. English, pastor of the Methodist church, South, is to be the speaker. The choir of the speaker's church will sing.

The service will begin at 7:45.

What is the origin of the various Protestant denominations?

Methodism originated with a movement started in Oxford University in 1729 by John and Charles Wesley and others. The movement soon became widely known as the "Methodist Movement."

Modern Baptist bodies trace their origin to the Protestand reformation. Early in the 17th century the first Baptist churches arose in England.

The distinctly Presbyterian churches of the United States trace their origin chiefly to Great Britain.

The Lutheran church was founded in 1855 on the principles expressed by Martin Luther. Lutheranism was introducted into America by Dutch colonists who settled on Manhattan Island.

The Disciples of Christ originated in a movement for Christian unity and reconciliation which arose in American Baptist and Presbyterian circles at the beginning of the 19th century. The church was formally established in 1832.

The American Protestant Episcopal church was permanently established in 1607 when the Rev. Robert Hunt celebrated the Holy Communion on May 21 on the banks of the James River in Virginia. However, services of the Church of England in the American colonies were conducted much earlier by the chaplains carried with various fleets.

Congregationalism is regarded as an outgrowth of the Separatist Movement which developed after the Reformation. It was brought to America by the Pilgrim Fathers (1620) who, driven from England in 1608 had found refuge in Holland.

The service will be in the band stand at Liberty Park unless it rains Sunday afternoon. If it rains or threatens immediate rain, the service will be in the Methodist church, Fifth and Osage.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Van Arsdale, who was one year old July 29.

The Relation of Temperance to Character. Proverbs 4:10-23; I Thess. 5:6-8 for Sunday, August 14.

In the Book of Proverbs much is said of wisdom, especially in the first three chapters preceding this lesson. In God's wisdom there comes character. In the study of this lesson we think of the general principles of life that make character and then we think in a specific way of the effect of wrong habits on character. The temperance lesson for this quarter as based on this lesson naturally points to liquor's debasing effect on character.

V. 10. "Hear, O my son, and receive my sayings; and the years of thy life shall be many." This verse contains the thought of the preceding nine verses. He who observes words of wisdom will likely have the longest life.

V. 11. "I have taught three in the way of wisdom; I have led thee in the right paths." The wisdom of this verse refers to moral discernment and right attitudes. It is at this point where instruction is most needed which includes the knowledge of the evil effects of liquor.

V. 12. "When thou goest, thy steps shall not be straitened; and when thou runnest, thou shalt not stumble." The wise person is able to go on unhindered and unimpeded by that which interferes with progress. Liquor interferes with a man's progress.

V. 13. "Take fast hold of instruction; let her not go; keep her, for she is thy life." Here instruction is considered so important as to be personified. The advice of a good mother has saved many a child. No good mother advises her child to drink.

V. 14. "Enter not into the path of the wicked, and go not in the way of evil men." It is the part of wisdom to deliberately choose not to allow an evil habit to the point of disassociating ourselves from those who indulge.

V. 16. "For they sleep not, except they have done mischief." Those who wilfully engage in evil will not rise to the higher level of moral men and women, but will do their utmost to drag them to their level.

V. 17. "For they eat the bread of wickedness and drink the wine of violence." Those saturated with evil will use any means to satisfy their debased appetites and desires. The present liquor control system is failing to control because of wrong methods. Drinking is a disease which calls for preventatives and cures.

V. 18. "But the path of the just is as the shining light, that shineth more and more to the perfect day." It is a law of life that walking righteously becomes easier as one proceeds.

V. 19. "The way of the wicked is as darkness; they know not at what they stumble." One who has indulged in the evil for some time becomes unconscious of the wickedness of that evil. Those who drink are not aware of their own handicap.

Vs. 20, 21. "My son, attend to my words; incline thine ear unto my sayings. Let them not depart from thine eyes; keep them in the midst of thine heart." Life must be motivated if it is to have any power, hence words of truth and power must fill the mind and touch the tap roots of desire.

V. 22. "For they are life unto those that find them, and health to all their flesh." A man of righteousness regards helpful instruction and wisdom as most essential to life and health of soul and body. How few really care to attend temperance meetings today. Why?

V. 23. "Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life." The word keep means to guard. There is no effectual guarding unless God guards. What the life is will be determined by what the heart is. The joy of life as well as its success depends upon what enters the heart. No one can afford to allow the base desire for drink if he wants a life worthwhile.

V. 6. "Therefore let us not sleep as do others; but let us watch and be sober." Spiritual watchfulness and sobriety are essential to a goodly life.

V. 7. "For they that sleep sleep in the night; and they that be drunken are drunken in the night." One who is not watchful is not aware of spiritual danger and acts as one who knows no better than to do evil.

V. 8 "But let us who are of the day be sober, putting on the breastplate of faith and love; and for an helmet the hope of salvation." One needs to be spiritually armed with faith and love and hope.

The Relation of Temperance to Character. Proverbs 4:10-23; I Thess. 5:6-18, for Sunday, August 14.

1. What stand should one take on the question of social drinking?
2. How many can you count who lost control of their lives because of drink?
3. What are some of the chief causes of short lives?
4. What are the benefits of sober living?
5. What are some things which interfere with sober living and how overcome them?

Clericus says, "No amount or degree of scholarship can atone for the lack of character. A college president, said, 'we are engaged in the business of producing men and women who can play honorably and efficiently their part in life, and we know they can not do this without character.'"

Lesson Prayer, "We would put such a high estimate upon character that will not allow the introduction of any thing that will be a handicap to our being our best. In the light of this truth we would abstain from harmful drugs, narcotics and evil of all kind."

Book Review

Ethical Dilemmas of Ministers by Mueller and Hartshorne, Scribners, presents the judgements of several hundred representative clergymen on the ethics of many conventional practices. Such pertinent questions as marriage and divorce, social and cicic consciousness, community service, responsibilities of the ministry are discussed comprehensively.

YOU GET THEM ALL WHEN YOU

SHIP and TRAVEL By RAIL

● Today's unbeatable value in freight transportation! Consider the combination of efficient handling, swift transportation, dependability and low costs offered by the railroads. Or consider how the railroads coordinate their freight service to bring the most remote and isolated corner of the nation within a quick haul of every factory, city or town. Or how the railroads facilitate the shipping and marketing with special services such as the diversion of carload shipments and the free pick-up-and-delivery of less than carload shipments. You ship with confidence when you ship by rail, certain of prompt and safe delivery of your shipments.

There are challenging facts, too, about modern rail transportation that should be considered by all who travel—such challenging and pleasurable facts as delightful meals at low costs . . low rail fares every day in the year . . . air-conditioning . . . safety . . . luxurious comforts for all passengers

• RAISING A FAMILY

BOTH NEGLECT AND CODDLING HARM CHILD

Parents are pretty fine people. Regardless of their failings, they are the best friends their children will have—ever.

But there is a tendency in many homes to adopt a certain attitude toward the children and stick to this policy to the bitter end, without laying it on the table to see where it needs mending.

For example, there are the parents who insist on living their lives, as they call it, keeping the children entirely out of their world. Mother is kind and loving, but after she has seen that the children are well fed, clean and healthy, she considers her duty well done. Her own personality she saves for her contemporaries. The little folk might as well be prize pets, to be put off or on as convenient.

Daddy, on his side, thinks that working all day for subsistence and luxuries, releases him from further bother. He is a social creature and thinks that evening lost when he cannot be out with the boys or dancing somewhere with his wife; of a day incomplete without golf or baseball. He, too, makes it clearly understood that although he loves his children and is proud of them, they have no further claim on his time or thought.

Forget All But Children

On the other hand, and perhaps this is commoner still, some elevate the children above everything in the house and above each other. The entire machinery of such a home is calculated to fix the idea in each child's head that he comes first, last and all the time.

This mother and father both seem to take a grim pride in neglecting all social life, self-improvement and stimulating contacts because they feel just a bit more benevolent to their children through self-denial.

Children so indulged are as surely set apart from parents as the ones denied a partnership. Wisdom calls for a blend of fellowship, service and personalities, with room left for self, of course.

The child's attitude to his parents in the future will depend upon his present status as a member of the union.

So much money poured out of France for the purchase of Italian and Flemish laces during the reign of Louis XIII and Louis XIV that royal edicts were passed forbidding all classes below certain ranks to wear lace-trimmed garments or carry lace handkerchiefs.

• STORIES IN STAMPS

Where Ice Cools The Equator

OUT of the depths of Africa came reports 100 years ago of an extraordinary mountain, soaring above the matted growth of the jungle to an ice-clad summit within a few degrees of the equator. Some scientists met the rumor with derision. No one investigated.

So the mystery of mighty Kilimanjaro remained a secret until finally in 1861 Karl von der Decken, a German scientist, confirmed the report about the mountain made by Johann Rebmann, an English missionary, 13 years before. The Paris Geographical Society conferred a medal on Rebmann and his associate, Krapf Ludwig. Thereafter interest in the peak rose keenly.

Several expeditions sought its summit. Charles New, a missionary, reached the snow line at 14,000 feet before he was forced to descend, and Joseph Thompson of the Royal Geographical Society was the first to work his way around the north side. Forty years after it had been first sighted, Dr. Hans Meyer and Ludwig Purtscheller stood upon Kilimanjaro's summit. Since that date, 1889, a number of explorers have scaled the peak.

Kilimanjaro rises abruptly from the plains and culminates actually in two peaks, one 17,500 and one 19,728 feet high. The peak of Kibo, the tallest, has a crater over 6000 feet in circumference and 600 feet deep. Kilimanjaro is shown here on a stamp of Tanganyika, British protectorate since the World War. It was formerly German territory.

20,000 Persons Commit Suicide Every Year In The USA

(This is the first of two articles by Dr. Fishbein in which he discusses the suicide problem.)

When a young chauffeur determined a while ago to end his existence publicly by climbing out on a window ledge, where he remained for 11 hours before he decided to jump, public attention was focused again on self-destruction in human beings.

Every year about 20,000 persons in the United States kill themselves. That means that about 18 out of every 1000 men who are born, and about 5 out of every 1000 women who are born, will kill themselves as a means of ending their lives.

Suicide, as pointed out by Drs. Louis I. Dublin and Alfred J. Lotka, is not a prominent cause of death. Yet the inherent drama of this means of departing life has a tremendous attraction for public attention.

There are many questions to be answered. Why do three and a half times as many men as women commit suicide? Why is the tendency to commit suicide greater among older than among young people? Why do Negroes commit suicide far less frequently than members of the white race?

* * *

It seems that suicide results chiefly from the discouragement and hopelessness of the later years of life, according to the distinguished statisticians, rather than from the disappointments of youth. More than one-half of all suicides in the United States occur among people 45 years of age and over.

The tendency to suicide varies at different times in our history. For instance, our suicide rates were higher before 1915 than they have been since.

There was a material drop after 1915. During the World War, the rate fell lower and lower, until 1920, when the United States had the lowest suicide rate on record.

Although there was a rise from 1925 up to 1932, the rate has been declining steadily since 1932.

The customs, religion, social attitudes, climate, and other factors which influence human conduct also influence suicide rates.

The lowest rate known in the years from 1930 to 1934 was that of Ireland—3.4 per 100,000—and the highest, that of Austria, with 40 per 100,000. No doubt, Austrian rates in recent years have been still higher.

People differ as to the methods by which they commit suicide. The agents most frequently used are firearms and poisons, which account together for about one-half of all suicides. Then there are asphyxiation and hanging. These four agencies together account for 83 per cent of all suicides.

Igor Sikorsky, aircraft engineer, says that an airplane using liquid hydrogen could circumnavigate the earth, along the equator in a non-stop flight without refueling.

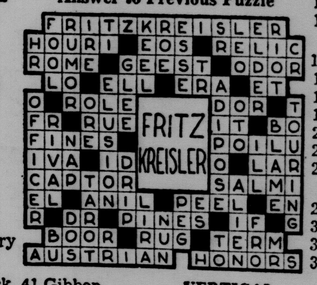

Service is being centralized around large airports where busy executives can find a schedule that is frequent and varied enough to meet the needs of al emergencies.

CORN AND WHEAT BOTH ADVANCE

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Stimulated by upturns of ⅝ cent in corn values, wheat recovered late today from 1⅜ cents tumble to 5-year new low-price records.

A revival of buying of corn futures for export interests was conspicuously in evidence. Argentine and United States corn were quoted at practically the same price in the Liverpool market as against a recent spread of 4 cents.

At the close, Chicago corn futures were ⅝ to 1½ cents higher compared with yesterday's finish, Sept. 51¼c, Dec. 48c to 48⅛c, wheat ⅝ cent off to ⅛ cent up, Sept. 62c to 62⅛c, Dec. 64¼c to 64⅜c, and oats unchanged to ⅜ cent down.

ATTACK OF WAR NERVES HITS STOCKS

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(AP)—The stock market suffered an attack of war "nerves" today but late buying stimulants were administered and early losses running to more than 3 points were reduced.

As in the preceding session, brokers said, traders ran to cover on the fear of a military outbreak at the Czechoslovak border over the weekend. Tangible basis for this uneasiness, however, apparently was lacking.

Renewal of the "shivers," it was believed, may have been caused by the tradition that wars in Europe are likely to start in August after the grain harvests are in. Reports of troop movements near the Czech frontier were explained as the usual beginning of autumn maneuvers, but advices from Paris indicated a little more tenseness there with French diplomats instructed to forward all information regarding military preparations now under way in Germany.

Accentuating the political unsettlement overseas was resumption of gold hoarding abroad and a boost in the London gold price to the highest point since November, 1936. The principal foreign currencies dipped in the morning in terms of the dollar, but most shaved declines eventually.

An effort to rally stocks at the opening met with only shortlived success and a subsequent selling wave knocked down recent favorites to low marks of the day in the second hour with the ticker tape, for a time, 3 minutes behind floor dealings.

The pace slowed after noon and the volume was comparatively small on the belated recovery shift. Transfers were around 1,600,000 shares.

THREE INSTANTLY KILLED IN WRECK NEAR COLE CAMP

Unidentified Boy Said To Be Wearing Smith-Cotton Ring

Three persons were killed instantly about 11 o'clock Thursday night in a headon collision a half mile from the Cole Camp junction on Highway 65.

The dead are: F. F. Hawley, 48, a book salesman from Marshall, Josephine Gay of Kansas City and an unidentified hitchhiker reported to be wearing a Smith-Cotton ring.

The body of the woman will be sent to La Fayette, Ind., for burial.

On the hitchhiker's finger was a ring resembling that worn by Smith-Cotton graduates. On the inside of the ring is carved the letters D. L. S. "S" and also the name Sibley.

The youth was described as blond and about 21 years old wearing a blue shirt, dark pants and shoes. There were no marks on his clothing to indicate who he was or where he was from.

Both cars were demolished in the wreck described by bystanders as "horrible".

Hawley, accompanied by the hitchhiker, was driving north on highway 65 and according to those who witnessed the accident Josephine Gay pulled on to the highway in front of the Hawley car.

County coroner T. S. Reeser said an inquest would not be held it being evident the fatalities were accidental.

The bodies were taken to the Eickhoff Funeral Home. Hawley was driving a 1937 Chevrolet. The Gay car was a 1932 Buick.

Josephine Gay was reported to have left two friends at the Sunrise tavern, a man by the name of Sprangenburg of Santiago, Mo., and a girl Ethel Beufield, a school teacher at Lees Summit residing at Independence. The two are being questioned early this morning by county officials.

DOUBLE HANGING OF SLAYERS OF A FEDERAL AGENT

FDR CHALLENGE ACCEPTED BY A 'POLITICAL' FOE

President Asks Blessings for Candidate After Assailing Him

BARNESVILLE, Ga., Aug. 11.—(AP)—President Roosevelt for the first time called vigorously today for the defeat of a Democratic senator he feels does not meet the tests of liberalism—and his challenge was promptly accepted.

Mr. Roosevelt told perspiring and cheering thousands assembled here for a rural electrification celebration he felt Senator Walter F. George should not be returned to the seat he has occupied 16 years and added firmly "I most assuredly would vote for Lawrence Camp" in Georgia's September 14 primary.

Senator George sat impassively on the platform through the President's hard-hitting speech and at its conclusion walked across to the party chief, shook hands with him and said:

"Mr. Roosevelt, I regret that you have taken this occasion to question my democracy and to attack my public record. I want you to know that I accept the challenge."

The President answer was lost in the confusion of many persons moving across the platform but Senator George later told newsmen Mr. Roosevelt replied:

"'God bless you, Walter, let's always be friends.'"

J. M. Burke Injured

J. M. Burke, route 4, Beaman, suffered a broken left collarbone Thursday when the horse which he was riding stumbled, throwing him to the ground, and fell on him.

Burke said the horse stepped into the ditch and fell pinning him underneath. Dr. Charles McNeal, Sedalia, was called to treat Burke.

DEFER POPULARITY TEST ON CONTROL LAW UNTIL 1939

Referendum Unnecessary On Corn Market Quotas For This Year

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11—(AP)—A corn belt popularity test of the new crop control law has been deferred at least until next year.

Secretary Wallace announced late yesterday that a referendum on corn marketing quotas was made unnecessary by the official August crop report, which estimated the corn yield at 2,566,-221,000 bushels. That amount, coupled with a 320,000,000-bushel carryover from 1937, fell 27,000,-000 bushels short of the "excessive supply" level which would require a vote.

If the August forecast is followed by a comparable report on production in November, federal loans on corn will be mandatory. The indicate rate is 57 cents a bushel, or seven cents higher than last year.

Under marketing quotas, requiring approval of two-thirds of the farmers voting, farmers in the commercial corn belt would have had to store a percentage of their corn or pay a penalty of 15 cents a bushel on all corn sold or fed to livestock in excess of individual quotas.

Such quota restrictions won overwhelming approval by southern cotton and tobacco farmers last spring. Federal farm officials had said frankly, however, they did not wish to have such a referendum in the midwest.

Wallace estimated the marketing quota level at 2,913,000,000 bushels yesterday, although in the spring it was placed at 2,773,000,-000 bushels. Officials explained that a farm law provision for "adjustment for trends in demand" made it possible to revise the figure by 140,000,000 bushels.

Wallace estimated normal domestic needs at 2,405,000,000 bushels annually compared with 2,345,000,000 for the 1928-37 average, and exports at 70,000,000 bushels compared with 9,000,000 bushels for the ten-year average. He predicted that exports for the year ending September 30 would total 120,000,000 bushels.

He said the department's corn acreage program, under which corn belt farmers were asked to reduce operations from 18 to 20 per cent, was the major factor in averting a surplus, and pointed out that the corn acreage was 9,768,000 less than in 1937.

"The program helped to bring about an adjustment of about 15 per cent in corn acreage planted in the commercial corn area this year," Wallace said, adding that much of the diverted acreage was planted to wheat.

VALUATION IS UNDER ADVISEMENT

The hearing on a petition asking for a reduction of the assessed valuation of the building on the southwest corner of Third street and Ohio avenue, held before three members of the state tax commission at the Pettis County court house, Tuesday afternoon, was concluded, and the matter taken under advisement by the commission.

The members of the commission who came to Sedalia for the hearing were Andy W. Wilcox, Charles Evans and Jesse A. Mitchell. Mr. and Mrs. Ira H. Lohman, of Jefferson City, owners of the building now occupied by the Crown Drug store, were appealing from the valuation of $40,000 as assessed by the Pettis County board of equalization.

D. S. Lamm and Lawrence Barnett represented the Lohmans and L. J. Harned, prosecuting attorney and Fred F. Wesner, city counselor, the board of equalization.

TROOPS REMAIN IN POSITION IN BORDER DISPUTE

Soviet-Japanese Conflict On Way To Peaceful Termination

ALL DIFFERENCES NOT YET ADJUSTED

Commission To Deal With Demarcation Of Frontier

By WADE WERNER

MOSCOW, Aug. 11.—(AP)—The vest-pocket war on the Siberian frontier, which threatened to involve Russia and Japan in a major conflict, appeared well on the way to peaceful settlement this morning.

Both sides agreed to a truce after a peace parley between the Soviet Russian foreign minister, Maxim Litvinoff, and the Japanese ambassador, Mamoru Shigemitsu, and to order their forces to cease military operations at noon today Changkufeng time (9 p. m. Wednesday C. S. T.).

Not all points of the dispute over the frontier position about Changkufeng Hill, center of trouble since July 11, were cleared up by the agreement—the basis for re-defining the border remained a thorny problem which could start new quarrels.

The one main point was settled, however; both sides agreed to stop fighting.

A communique announced Japan and Russia had decided that their respective troops would remain in positions they held at midnight August 10.

In Tokyo, the foreign office announced a "cease firing" order was given today, and that both Russian and Japanese forces began preparations to withdraw. Details of the truce were not available in Tokyo but in official circles there was evident satisfaction with the peaceful settlement.

A commission of two Soviet representatives and two Japanese-Manchoukuo representatives was agreed upon to deal with demarcation of the frontier.

The Soviet communique this morning specifically stated, however, that "agreement had not been reached about the basis for work of the demarcation commission."

In other words, Tokyo had not agreed to recognize maps attached to the Hunchun treaty of 1886, between Russia and China, which Moscow heretofore has insisted must be recognized as authoritative in determining the boundary.

May Forestall New Outbreak

The Japanese ambassador promised, however, the Soviet communique said, to consult his government on this point, which may mean a compromise is in sight to forestall any new outbreak in the border quarrel.

Shigemitsu had sought to have the demarcation based on other data, not yet submitted to the Soviet government.

Japan has held the Hunchun treaty maps never were published and that Japan has no knowledge of their content and therefore should not be expected to accept them as a basis for boundary negotiations.

Litvinoff made the armistice proposals and suggested that the border commission include a representative of a third power, as an arbiter, but that Shigemitsu refused to consider this. The border incident began on July 11, when Japan charged that Soviet Russia fortified Changkufeng Hill, claiming it to be Russian territory although Japanese hold it to be Manchoukuo territory.

Dampens Hope of Chinese

CANTON, China, Aug. 11.—(AP)—News of the armistice between Soviet Russia and Japan on the Siberian-Manchoukuoan frontier dampened today the widespread hopes of South China that it might eventually be spared Japanese invasion through the direct intervention of the Soviet Union.

Meanwhile heavy rains and bad visibility again sheltered Canton from air raids which Japanese have threatened to carry out on this city for 10 days.

REASSIGNMENT FOR LIQUOR INSPECTORS

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 11.—(AP)—E. J. McMahon, state liquor control supervisor, today announced the reassignment of liquor inspectors in nine central Missouri counties.

M. D. Settle of Fayette was made inspector in Randolph, Howard and Boone counties; G. S. Story took over Cole, Cooper and Moniteau counties and H. G Day became inspector in Dallas, Hickory and Polk counties.

WAGE DEADLOCK ENTERS MEDIATION

CHICAGO, Aug. 11—(AP)—The controversy between railroad management and labor over a proposed 15 per cent wage cut entered the mediation stage today.

In an effort to break the deadlock, a three-man national mediation board arranged conferences with the carriers' joint conference committee, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Railway Labor Executives' association. It was indicated the sessions would continue for at least 10 days.

Intervention by the board followed more than a month of fruitless negotiations.

At stake are the pay scales of approximately 929,000 railroad workers and, according to the carriers, the general welfare of the roads.

DEMAND FROM GIRDLER SENATE INVESTIGATE CIO

Charges "Violence And Intimidation" In "Little Steel" Strike

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11—Tom Girdler, chairman of the board of the Republic Steel Corporation, demanded today a senate investigation of "violence and intimidation" by the C. I. O. in last summer's "little steele" strike.

Criticizing the senate civil liberties committee investigation of the strike as being "one-sided," the blunt-spoken steel xecutive declared it would be only fair to subpoena C. I. O. records to show to what use the steel workers organzing committee put a $1,500,-000 fund.

Girdler, last of more than 300 witnesses examined in connection with the widespread 1937 strike, said in a prepared statement that he had heard "an undercurrent of rumor for months that because our company signed no contract with the C. I. O., the real purpose of the present session was to 'smear Republic Steel Corporation, crucify Tom Girdler and whitewash the C. I. O'."

Girdler asked Chairman LaFollettee (Prog-Wis) for permission to read his statement before being questioned by committeemen. LaFollette denied the request, saying such permission had been refused other witnesses. The chairman added, however, Girdler could offer the statement later for introduction into the record.

Girdler said in his statement he was filing with the committee the record of 550 cases of "violence and intimidation by the C. I. O." Republic, he said, is "prepared to produce hundreds of witnesses to support these charges."

"In view of these facts," he said, "I respectfully insist that the committee investigate the violations of the civil rights and liberties of American citizens by the C. I. O."

Girdler vigorously defended his action in refusing to sign a contract with the S. W. O. C. last year. it was this action, coupled with similar refusal by other "little steel" companies, which brought on the 1937 strike.

He said Republic officials were convinced that, (1) A majority of their employes "did not want us to sign;" (2) That such a contract was "the first step toward a closed shop and the check-off,' ' and (3) That the C. I. O. was "not under responsible leadership and that Communistic influences were dominating its activities."

The steel executive said he was not attempting to excuse acts of violence attributed to company police in testimony previously taken by the committee.

Proposes Act Changes

As a solution, Girdler recommended the passage of "fair and sound" labor legislation. He proposed the following changes in the national labor relations act:

1. Separation of the labor board's power to act as "combined investigator, prosecutor, judge and jury."

2. Amendment of the act to permit employers as well as employes to bring complaints.

3. Revision to restore "the right of free speech" and to permit employers to express their opinions to their own employes

4. Prohibition against coercion of employes from any source "including labor organizers and sympathizers and the ruthless tactics indulged in by them," with a definition of unfair practices on the part of labor organizations as well as employers.

5. Addition of a provision establishing the responsibility of labor unions and "placing an obligation on unions not to conduct picketing destructive to any man's right to work."

TEMPERATURE OF 106 AT WARSAW

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 11—(AP)—Somewhat cooler weather prevailed in most of Missouri today.

But the weather bureau said temperautres will rise slightly in the northwest portions tomorrow. There was little liklihood of rain anywhere in the state.

For the third successive day the temperature soared to 106 degrees at Warsaw yesterday. Other points reporting 100 degrees or over were Chillicothe 100, Clinton 102, Harrisonville 104, Jefferson City 101, Kansas City 104, Lamar 103, Lexington 102 and Macon 100.

FUNERAL FRIDAY FOR BOY DYING IN CHURCH HERE

Prayers Offered at Warrensburg After Body Was Taken There

There will be funeral services at the Mt. Zion church, south of Warrensburg, at 10 o'clock Friday morning for Lawrence Olson, 14 years old, whose body was reputedly "demon possessed," until Tuesday afternoon about 1 o'clock, and who has been pronounced dead by four physicians.

The boy who has been mute since birth, sought relief and recovery at the Full Gospel church, Fifth street and Hancock avenue, about a week ago when he came to Sedalia in company with his sister, Miss Lena Olson, and attended regularly the prayer meetings conducted by Rev. C. B. Swanson, pastor of the church.

It is declared he suffered two similar attacks last week such as Tuesday afternoon when he collapsed before the altar in the church. He was taken to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Olson eight miles south of Warrensburg, and returned Monday to resume his attendance at the church prayers.

Rev. Swanson declared the boy was "demon possessed," and when the collapsed before the altar of the church, it was said to been stated by the pastor the "demons" had been removed from the body and that he would recover following his "trance." However, when visited that afternoon by Dr. J. E. Cannady he pronounced him dead. This the minister and congregation refused to believe, insisting he was in a trance and would recover.

Prayed Day and Night

For nearly twenty-four hours members of the congregation remained beside the boy praying, until Dr. J. E. Mitchell, health officer, and Dr. Gordon Stauffacher, coroner, stepped in, and upon investigating learned the boy was dead and ordered his removal to an undertaker. About 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon the body was taken to the Wilcox Funeral Parlor in Warrensburg, by McLaughlin's.

In Warrensburg the parents of the boy and several friends awaited the arrival of the body at the funeral parlor and there they began their prayers for restoration of life.

Dr. Lee Cooper, of Warrensburg, went to the parlors and examined the boy upon the request of relatives, and he likewise pronounced the boy dead .

Insisted Boy Lived

The mother insisted, however, he was still living, and after the doctor said the boy could be delivered from the grave as well as any place, the family then consented to the funeral services.

Mr. and Mrs. Olson brought their son and daughter to Sedalia, July 31, so the boy could become a follower of Rev. Swanson and be benefited.

"We have been praying and praying for him," the mother said. "He had been in terrible shape." Mrs. Olson appeared elated that her son "had been freed of the evil spirts" and did not manifest any concern over his condition.

Although persons who were close to him in Sedalia had said he had previously suffered epileptic attacks, his mother informed the press she had never known of this, but admitted he had been in a bad condition because of his affliction of being mute.

Rev. C. B. Swanson will officiate at the funeral services, and he will be assisted by Mrs. Ethel Smith, in charge of the Full Gospel church in Warrensburg.

Pallbearers will be friends and neighbors of the family.

Burial will be in the cemetery near the church.

CAPTURE REED; IS BEING HELD ON MURDER CHARGE

Taken By Sheriff's Posse Near Knob Noster On Highway

HAD BEEN HUNTED THROUGHOUT DAY

Accused Slayer Taken Peacefully By Two LaMonte Men

Leslie Reed, Sr., charged with the murder of Ed. Williams August 4 was captured by a Pettis county posse early Wednesday night after he had been hunted through a two mile square area near LaMonte since early that morning.

G. L. Reynolds, constable at LaMonte, and L. W. Patton, dispatched there by Sheriff Marlin, captured the accused slayer as he was crossing the viaduct west of Knob Noster. Reed allowed himself to be taken without offering resistance.

Two Men Give Tip

The intensive hunt for Reed began early Wednesday morning when two men on their way to Kansas City saw a Negro, subsequently identified as Reed, walking along the highway.

When they turned around to assure themselves of his identity the man ran off the highway and into a cornfield on the farm of Edwin Eckhoff, near LaMonte. Sheriff Marlin was notified and he, accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Clyde Coppers, left immediately for the vicinity where Reed was seen.

Later they were joined by Deputy John Starkey and Highway Patrolmen Paul Corl and Lester Estes.

The officers searched an area two miles square but because of insufficient men and cars they were unsuccessful in their first attempt.

About noon Deputy Coppers went into LaMonte to organize a posse so the vicinity could be more thoroughly seached and through the afternoon officers and residents of the neighborhood searched the fields and patrolled the highways.

Believing the man might have slipped by the searchers during the morning, Coppers sent two men, Constable G. L. Reynolds and L. W. Patton, a tire shop operator, both of LaMonte, to patrol the highway toward Kansas City. Early Wednesday morning Sheriff Marlin had already extended the hunt into Johnson county.

Captured Near Knob Noster

Reynolds and Patton caught up with Reed near the viaduct just west of Knob Noster and took him into custody peacefully. He was brought to the Pettis county jail where he is being held on charges of first degree murder.

When questioned at the jail Reed said that after the shooting the left his home, 412 West Pettis street, and went north on highway 65. He said he left the highway and then headed east until his car broke down near Longwood. Sheriff Marlin said he had found the car several days ago.

Was In Kansas City

Reed told the officers he made his way to the junction of highways 40 and 65, north of Sedalia, and took a bus into Kansas City. He said he left the junction in the bus at about 8:21 o'clock on the night of the shooting.

Reed said he remained in Kansas City until Monday of this week when he started to hitchhike to Sedalia. He told the officers he obtained a ride with two boys on their way to Lebanon and that he went with them until they reached the railroad spur leading to the Fair Grounds just west of Sedalia on highway 50.

Hid In Field

Monday night Reed said he stayed in a field near the intersection of Third street and the State Fair boulevard. Tuesday he said he started to go away from Sedalia but after going south a short distance returned.

Wednesday morning, Reed said he decided to go back to Kansas City as he was afraid to come into Sedalia or contact friends here. He began to walk west along highway 50 when he was seen.

Reed appeared before Justice of the Peace, Bell Hutchioson this afternoon on a charge of first degree murder, waived his preliminary hearing and was bound over to the criminal court without bond. He was committed to the county jail.

RAISING BUYING POWER TO CREATE WEALTH IS AIM

President Speaks Saying It Is Far Too Low In South

BARNESVILLE, Ga., Aug. 11.—President Roosevelt named names in the Georgia senatorial primary today, and made it completely clear he would not like to see Senator Walter F. George or former Governor Eugene Talmadge receive the Democratic nomination.

"I most assuredly would cast my ballot for Lawrence Camp," the President said, referring to North Georgia's New Deal district attorney.

Speaking at a rural electrification celebration, the President did not mention the name of one candidate in the Georgia senate race, William G. McRae, Townsend plan advocate.

The chief executive, in one of the most vigorous political speeches of his career, said he knew George, Talmadge and Camp personally.

Mr. Roosevelt referred to George as "my friend," but said the sitting senator did not meet the test of liberalism which is desirable in present day government.

Then, calling Talmadge's name, the President said:

" Have read so many of his proposals, so many of his promises, so many of his panaceas, that I am very certain in my own mind that his election would contribute little to practical government.

"That is all I can say about him."

ATHENS, Ga., Aug. 11.—President Roosevelt said today that one job of the national government is "to raise purchasing power and thereby create wealth in those sections where it is far too low."

The chief executive spoke at the University of Georgia, where he received an honorary degree.

Devoting much of his address to a discussion of educational and economic conditions in the south, he did not refer directly to the wage-hour measure, enacted by the last congress.

Discussing the duties of the federal government toward state and local educational objectives, Mr. Roosevelt called today for "constant progressive action" on both educational and economic fronts.

"In the long run," he said, "the best way for your national government to assist state and local educational objectives is to tackle the national aspects of economic problems."

Government, he asserted should seek to prevent the waste of natural resources, encourage each section to become financially independent and "take the lead in establishing social security."

Not Carry Load Alone

"Obviously," he said, "the federal government can not carry the load alone.

"In education, for example, Washington has greatly assisted by using the labor of people who really need to build school houses, many teachers. And Washington to give student aid and to pay will help by giving some grants in aid to those communities which need them most. But Washington should not and can not rightly subsidize public education throughout the United States. Education should be run by the states and their subdivisions."

Saying that a group in the South has questioned why pay in this section was low, why roads were poor and why medical and school facilities were improperly maintained, the chief executive continued:

"I do not mince words, because, first of all, I have a right—a nation-wide right, a state right and withal a sympathetic and understanding right to speak them, and, secondly, because you as well as I know them to be true.

"It may not be politics, but it is good American idealism to recognize, to state boldly, that in 1932, the conditions of human life in Georgia and in other states of the lower south were a whole at the bottom of the national scale.

"At the same time, let us rejoice and take pride in the undoubted fact that in these past six years the south has made greater economic and social progress up the scale than at any other period in her long history.

"It is my objective and yours to maintain that march and to accelerate its pace."

APPEAL MADE TO COUNTIES TO AID WITH PAYROLL

Request To Take Over Part of Social Security Expenses

WOULD BE FOR OFFICES ACTIVITIES

Shortage of Administrative Funds Cause For Request

The Pettis county court will be asked to take over part of the payroll burden of the social security commission for the remainder of the year, according to announcement made by the administrator, George I. Haworth, of Jefferson City.

The request is being made because the commission is hard pressed for administrative funds, and each county in the state will be asked to pay the salary only of employes in local offices, some of whom will lose their jobs next week, unless some arrangement can be made to pay them until January 1.

Four employes of the Pettis county have been notified they will be laid off August 15. They are Mrs. Judson Banks and Damon Hieronymus, junior visitors, Mrs. Malcolm Scott and Miss Elaine Hull, clerks.

Judges H. F. Fricke, A. C. Leftwich and Malcolm Scott, of the county court, said this morning they had not yet received the request from Mr. Haworth, and had therefore not given the matter any consideration, but would take action one way or the other when the request was received.

Some Counties To Pay

Cole, Clay, Moniteau, St. Louis and Morgan counties have arranged to pay salaries of some of the dismissed employes, Mr. Hayworth said, adding:

"It is hoped other counties will recognize the importance of maintaining the program on its present plane and will make plans to pay administrative salaries and expenses in the local offices of the social security commission during the next four and one-half months.

"This would enable the commission, through its local investigators, to keep pace with applications and prevent the piling up of thousands of cases pending investigation, with resulting unfairness to deserving applicants for old age assistance, and to dependent children, and direct relief."

The statement said efforts to obtain further administrative funds from federal agencies had failed and that if the counties were unable to help, "it would be necessary for the commission to call upon the governor for some unusual means of obtaining necessary funds."

The "extraordinarily heavy work" of reinvestigation of 72,-000 old age assistance cases, necessary under federal regulations before monthly grants could be increased; and (2) the task of certifying applicants for WPA jobs, made necessary by a surge of relief demands and not contemplated when the commission's administrative appropriation was fixed; (3) appropriation of $1,-612,400 for administrative expenses in the 1937-38 biennium by the legislature, $480,139 less than the estimated requirement.

Crippled By Cut

Members of the St. Louis city advisory social security committee told the state commission yesterday the cut in personnel in the city's social security office from 328 to 121 would cripple all assistance activities there.

The St. Louis group said 2,-650 old age assistance applications were stalled in the office there now pending investigation and that 250 requests were being made daily for all forms of aid. Starting next week, the reduced staff can receive only 75 of these requests a day, the group said.

TICK-TOCK

Have you heard about the home of Charles S. Mills, of Cleveland, O.? Mills, it seems, got interested in clocks a few years ago and started collecting them. He didn't put them away in glass cases to spend the rest of their lives silently staring, but saw to it that they were kept in running order. And he kept them running.

He has 125 of them now. He has cuckoos and grandfathers and music-box clocks and practically everything under the sun, and they're all running under one modest roof. It takes an hour and a half to wind them all, if the winder gets around fast.

When the story about Mills and his clocks reached this office it seemed like a charming idea at first—having a house chock-full of continual ticks and tinkles and chimes—but then, after a little meditation, it appeared in a new light.

Twenty-four hours a day of insistent reminders from 125 time-pieces: "You're getting older—life is slipping—you haven't done it—everything passes—one more month to meet that note . . . ?"

No thanks.

CARTE DU JOUR

The Italians seem to be getting all kinds of bright ideas these days. First it was the liberation of the neck from the tight-fitting collar, and now it's the liberation of the restaurant-goer from the menu studded with foreign words and phrases.

The Fascist policy-formulators in the field of public feeding have declared that "exotic and foreign names" must go. The official explanation is the government wants to discourage snobbery, but it looks from here more like a simple move to intensify the affection of the people for its government.

The "exotic" names that fall within the scope of the new edict include "hot dog," "roast beef," and the extraordinary labels that have been affixed to various cocktails. The thought of a hot dog going under any other name is a little distressing, and what Italian names "Manhattan," "Bronx," and "Planter's Punch" will assume staggers the imagination. "Roast beef," of course, might be changed to the international label, "ross-biff."

Anyway, it's a good idea. Some American candidate for political office might do well for himself by pledging war on the exoticisms on American menus. Platform: "Potage paysanne, pommes frites, pasta asciutta must go"

WHAT MAKES NEWS

Sometimes it takes a peculiar sort of phenomenon to make a man recognize exactly how many vital issues confront the world these days. Continual doses of alarming news over a long period sometimes lead to the suspicion that things actually have always been like this, and always will be.

Take your mind back, then, to 1926. On August 6 of that year a girl named Gertrude Ederle swam the English channel. You don't have to be told what kind of a sensation that produced, here and abroad. That was one of the big things that happened in 1926.

Did you ever hear of Jenny Kammersgaard? She swam the Baltic sea from Denmark to Germany, entering the water the night of July 27 and arriving the morning of July 29. She swam several miles farther than Gertrude Ederle, and she was in the water almost three times as long.

You may have missed that one. That wasn't one of the big things that happened in 1938. It was just one of the things that happened.

INTERNATIONAL BOUNDARY—NORTH AMERICAN STYLE

A big commercial transport plane was flying from Cleveland to Detroit the other day. Taking the shortest route, it swung northwest across Lake Erie, flew over a sizeable corner of Ontario, and then crossed the Detroit river and glided down to a landing at the Detroit airport.

One of the passengers was a young man who recently spent upwards of a year in Germany with the branch office of an American firm. When he got out of the plane he remarked:

"That was the most thrilling thing that has happened since I got back to America."

"What—this flight?" asked an acquaintance.

"No," said the young man. "The way we flew over the international boundary without anybody noticing it. We crossed from the United States, flew over Canada, and then flew back—and nobody said a word. That's the sort of thing that couldn't happen in Europe. Planes don't cross international boundaries there, not without a lot of negotiation and formality. They go far out of their way to avoid flying over a little strip of foreign territory. If they didn't, the pursuit planes would go after them."

* * *

Which is just another way of saying that we who live in North America never realize how lucky we are—until we see what we would be up against if the European system prevailed over here.

But perhaps it isn't entirely luck, after all.

When you stop to think about it, there is nothing to prevent the United States and Canada from distrusting each other and glaring sullenly across the border in the European manner—nothing except the fact that each nation uses good sense and neighborly forbearance.

The United States, for instance, could easily claim that it "needs" the raw materials which Canada has. It could argue that unless it "controlled" the supply of these things its whole economy would be endangered. And it could go ahead and lay plans for the conquest of the Dominion.

Canada, on the other hand, could point out that its liberty was endangered by the colossus to the south. It could complain about the disruptive influence of American visitors—those C. I. O. organizers who have disturbed Ontario's premier, for example—and it could close the border with patrols, forts and so on.

* * *

The situation that would result would be every bit as logical as the situation which is commonplace on almost every European border.

That peaceful boundary between the United States and Canada is, as the young traveler remarked, an immensely thrilling thing. But it doesn't exist by accident.

It is what it is because the people of the two countries have chosen to act sensibly.

DO HAVE SOME CULTURE

News of the appointment of a director for the newly created Cultural Relations division of the State Department recalls to the mind the fact that a kind of cultural battle of roses has been in process in the countries to the south, and some curiosity arises as to how the thing is getting on at this stage.

Referred to, of course, is the literary, musical, artistic, and ideological bombardment of South America by some half dozen powers across the seas. What recalls it is the fact that the work of the Cultural Relations division will be, to put it in sordid commercial terms, to "sell the American idea" to the South Americans.

This process involves teacher-exchanges, co-operation in developing the various artistic fields, sending books of American authors, helping build libraries and arrange exhibitions, sending musical works musicians, and making international radio broadcasts. This is generally what the other countries are doing.

The realistic word for this is propaganda. But a little meditation on the variety and abundance of cultures that are being pressed on the South Americans makes one wonder whether any particular political propaganda is going to get a word in edgewise. It look's from here as if maybe the big thing that's going to happen to South America is simply the creation of an extraordinary cosmopolitan culture.

At any rate, it becomes obvious that there's nothing like being sought-after.

Unless religion is streamlined, we must watch it become to unchurched millions of Americans an interesting relic of a more spiritually minded day.—Dr. Charles J. Turck, of the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education.

Quadruple Funeral for Train-Auto Crash Victims

The four hearses which carried the bodies of the victims in a train-automobile accident at the "Hoy" McConley, Missouri Pacific crossing two miles west of Dresden, Thursday night, are shown in the upper picture in front of the Mt. Zion Christian church, a mile and a half south of Dunksburg, Mo., where a quadrule funeral service was conducted Friday afternoon.

In the picture the casket being carried into the church yard is that of Nathan Faulconer, the one being removed from the hearse is that of Miss Ruth Taylor, 15 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Taylor. The caskets of Newton Fisher and his son, Sam Fisher had already been taken into the church.

The family of Miss Taylor, and that of Mr. Falconer, are shown at the left, awaiting the removal of the caskets.

Caskets To Graves

The picture below is the church yard and cemetery of the church, with the caskets of the victims being carried to the graves. That in front is Mr. Newton Fisher, behind that is Samuel Fisher, his son, the third casket being carried eastward is Nathan Faulconer, son-in-law of Newton Fisher, and the one in the rear is Miss Ruth Taylor, granddaughter of Mr. Fisher.

The funeral services for the four victims were conducted at the Mt. Zion church, one-half mile south of Dunksburg, Mo., by the Rev. C. E. Hawn, of Warrensburg, and the Rev. J. A. De Witt, of Beaman, at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Members of the church choir and friends furnished the music for the services: O. C. Forsythe, Mrs. Mary Tyler, Miss Florean Rice, Mrs. V. W. Hedgecock, Mr. Lloyd Hedgecock and Wayne Van Bibber. Miss Helen Hedgecock accompanied at the piano. They sang the following hymns, "Rock of Ages," "Sweet Bye and Bye," and "Nearer Still Nearer."

Friends who served as pallbearers were: for Nathan Faulconer, Joe Scott, Gilman Scott, L. W. Harris, Wilford Brandt, Bruce Gardner and James Gardner.

For Sam Fischer: Robert Thompson, Clay Herman, D. J. Harwin, T. E. Hoake, Tom Settle and Earl Clevenger.

For Newton Fisher: Otto Baldwin, Andrew Malloy, Charles Scharnhorst, Ernest Lee, Lewis Benton and F. W. Winston.

School mates of Miss Ruth Taylor served for her: Ernest Guthrie, Kenneth Stuart, John Homan, Jr., Jim Bob Marshall, Calvert Craig and William Moles.

Interments were made in the different family lots in the Mt. Zion church cemetery.

The Westbrook Funeral Home and the Ewing Funeral Home were in charge of the services.

OBITUARIES

Peter William Winter Dies

Peter William Winter, 75, of 400 West Fourth street, husband of Anna Mary Winter, died at 10:30 o'clock Sunday evening, August 7, 1933, in the Missouri Pacific hospital at St. Louis. He had been a patient there since June 24th. His left leg was amputated ten days ago to relieve his circulatory ailment, but his condition gradually grew worse.

The funeral will be held at Sacred Heart church, Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock and interment will be in Calvary cemetery. Pallbearers, all friends for many years of the deceased, will be John S. McGaw, Andy J. Knipp, Ernest F. Holtzen. Joseph Ryan, William N. Neely and H. L. Smith.

Peter William Winter was born July 21, 1863, on a farm near Northfield, Minn., the son of Joseph and Mary Winter. His boyhood days were spent on the farm and later, as a young man, he was employed by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, also the Great Western, his work taking him to Dubuque and Oelwein, Iowa, Detroit and St. Louis. He moved to Sedalia with his family in Ocober, 1911, as an employe of the Missouri Pacific railroad, and had resided here continuously since then. He was coach shop foreman until he was retired five years ago.

Mr. Winter was married to Anna Mary Strueber on May 8, 1894, at Dubuque, Iowa. They resided there fourteen years and at Olewein two years prior to coming to Sedalia. Mrs. Winter survives her husband. Three children were of the marriage and all of them survive. They are Mrs. Pauline Mary Bringes, wife of Irvin Bringes, St. Louis; Mrs. Mary A. Hodges, wife of William S. Hodges, Sedalia, and Miss Frances Winter, Tulsa, Okla. Three grandchildren also survive, Rita and Mary Elizabeth Bringes, and Peter William (Billy) Hodges. Two sisters survive, Mrs. Rosa Erhmantrout of St. Paul, Minn., and Mrs. George Fink, of Northfield, Minn. Two brothers also survive, John Winter and Joseph Winter, both of Northfield, Minn.

Mr. Winter was a devout member of Sacred Heart church and and Holy Name Society here, and was an active participant in church affairs. He had been a member for thirty years of the Knights of Columbus and was active officially in the affairs of that organization. Mr. Winter was well known to many Sedalians. His geniality and sterling character made him many friends. Besides the relatives mentioned Mr. Winter had many others in St. Louis, Kansas City, Iowa and Minnesota.

BIGGEST CROWD AT PARK FOR THE 'KID' AMATEURS

Last In Series of Four Contests Sponsored By Boosters August 12

One of the largest crowd of persons ever to attend a gathering of any kind was on hand to greet "Kids" night on the amateur program in the band stand at Liberty Park, sponsored by the Sedalia Booster Club, Friday evening. Additional 500 chairs and numerous benches were provided and these were all filled some time before the program started. Hundreds stood while many sat in their cars and listened to the program as it came through the loud speakers. It was variously estimated that between 5,000 and 7,000 persons heard the contest.

Forest Lane singing "Texas Plains" accompanying himself with the guitar was first prize winner, Buddy Arnold and Miss Virginia Lee Roberts were awarded second place singing "The Merry Go Round Broke Down." Third place went to Buster Baker singing "Moonlight on the Colorado" accompanied by Miss June Newland and Patty Ann Sullivan was the fourth place winner with a acrobatic dance. So close was the contests that several recounts of the time taken on the numbers were necessary to pick the winner, only 17 seconds difference between the first prize winner and the fourth place winner. The time was taken by the applause of the audience and the judges were M. M. Hayden, foreman in the supply department, F. G. Knerl, foreman of the sheet metal workers, and G. H. Ellis, coach shop foreman.

Talk by Joe Rosenthal

P. R. Nichols, chief Booster, was master of ceremonies and introduced G. T. Callender, superintendent of shops who presented Joe Rosenthal, president of the Chamber of Commerce who made a short talk as did F. T. Mahoney, superintendent of the Eastern Division of the Missouri Pacific of Kansas City, Mo.

As a special added attraction the well known radio entertainers Smiling Dave, Linda Lou and Ruth Virginia of radio station WFMD, Frederick, Maryland, gave a short program following the amateur contest. They are Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Boyer and daughter who are visiting with Mr. Boyer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Boyer of this city.

F. L. Hanigan, concluded the program with a short talk and announced the winners who responded with a short number. Those participating in the contest were Junior Howe and Sammie Moore, Dorothy Shepherd, Jimmie Meyers, Velva Lee and Melva Lucille Hamilton, George Dick, Lillian Stansberry, Betty Ann Harrison, Francis Gene Buford, Ann Jo and Evelyn Bellamy, Porche Lee Brown, L. A. Martin, Jr., Elsie Closser and June Newland.

Glenn Pace was in charge of the grounds committee and the Federated Shop Crafts provided 50 members of their crafts to assist in the policing of the grounds, the parking of cars and handling of the traffic and in spite of the expert handling of the traffic under the supervision of Fred Starr and Jim Wootan, Jr., it was over an hour before the park was emptied of cars so large was the crowd.

Another amateur contest, the fourth of the series will be held next Friday evening in the band stand and will be open to all. Everyone is invited to enter the contest and win one of the four prizes offered.

FIND DYNAMITE BOMB IN MAKING AN INSPECTION

G. A. Bergfelder Discovers It and Makes Report To Police

A dynamite bomb composed of seven sticks of explosive, percussion cap, fuse and two building bricks was found by a City Light and Traction line foreman just outside the city limits near the railroad spur to the fairgrounds Friday afternoon.

G. A. Bergfelder, 611 East Ninth Street, was inspecting poles along highway 50 west of Sedalia Friday afternoon at one o'clock when he found the bomb.

Bergerfelder said he had dropped into a deep ditch along the road to inspect the ground wires of a pole and when he was about to step out noticed a brown paper bag and idly kicked it. His foot struck the brick.

Wondering what the bag could contain that would be so heavy he looked into it and first thought it was a discarded raido battery.

"When I found it was dynamite," he said, "I called the police."

Chief-of-Police John O'Brien who answered the call took the explosive to police headquarters where it was examined.

There it was found the bomb had been made of two bricks, one lying flat the other on its side. The seven sticks of dynamite were laid into the V formed by the bricks. Into the middle stick a fuse was pushed which police said indicated the firing cap had been inserted making the bomb ready to explode

Around the bricks and dynamite was wrapped a quantity of tire tape.

The officers explained that the bricks had been added to the bomb possibly to add enough weight so that the contrivance could be thrown through a window.

Highway Patrolman Paul E. Corl examined the bomb to determine whether any of the materials in it had been stolen from a WPA project or other works on which explosives had been used. A quantity of fuse had been reported stolen from Rocheport, Mo., officers said, but that on the bomb was not of the same kind.

H. S. CAULFIELD OPENS SENATE CAMPAIGN HERE

Administration Spending And Congress Target Of Former Gov.

FOR REDUCTION IN FEDERAL EXPENSE

Would Make Endeavor To Bring About Balance To Budget

Former Governor Henry S. Caulfield, Republican candidate for United States Senator, opened his campaign here last night in an address to over 800 persons gathered on the court house lawn.

Caulfield based his address on what he termed the "fantastic spending" of the administration and laid equal blame on congress for "many things the president was criticized for doing or leaving undone".

"Men are prone to blame the President for all the failures of the past six years," he asserted, "but bear in mind, this country is still governed by laws, and laws are made by congress."

Assails Senator Clark

And hitting sharply at his Democratic opponent, Sen. Bennett Champ Clark, who is seeking re-election, Caulfield said:

"I expect to show that our senator voted for every measure that has continued and deepened the depression and kept millions of people out of jobs.

"His record shows he was especially active in supporting the passage of all the measures which resulted in vastly increasing the tax and debt burdens of our people."

The former chief executive, back in the thick of a campaign for the first time since retiring from office in 1933, declared that if elected he would "work to repeal the power of the government to throw men out of work by curtailing the production of the necessities of life."

Outlines Platform

He briefly outlined other phases of his platform as follows:

"I shall strive to reduce the running expense of the government, strive to stop this fantastic spending, work for the balancing of the federal budget, fight for reduction of the national debt and repeal of the dangerous discretionary authority which the President now has to tinker with the nation's monetary system."

The 65-year-old St. Louis lawyer said the causes of the depression "are found in the unsound policies of the national administration— and by national administration, I include the senate of which Mr. Clark is a member."

"The most popular thing the 75th congress did was adjourn" he added.

Caulfield was met by a motor caravan east of Sedalia when he arrived earlier in the evening. W. D. Smith, chairman of the Pettis County Republican committee, introduced Harvey D. Dow, candidate for state representative, who presented the former governor.

Fred Steuch accompanied Mr. Caulfield to Sedalia from St. Louis.

MRS. REED BLAMES BOILING AND KICKING WHISKEY INSIDE SON FOR SHOTGUN KILLING

LESLIE REED
Held on Murder Charge Here

"There isn't a better child in the world" said Mrs. Mary Reed, mother of Leslie Reed, sr., charged with the murder of Ed. Williams a week ago, as the state began prosecution of her son at a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Bell Hutchinson Thursday afternoon. Reed after eluding police for almost a week was captured early Wednesday night.

While her son was being bound over to the criminal court Mrs. Reed carried on with her work in the west Broadway home where she has been employed for over 25 years.

"I don't know of any trouble between Leslie and Mr. Williams in all the time he had lived with us", she said at her home, 412 West Pettis street last night.

"Full of That Stuff"

"I don't believe anything would have happened that day if Leslie had been all right" she said. "All this trouble started when he came home full of that stuff—it was boiling and kicking in him and it threw him off, Leslie had been gone all the night before and that day and when he did come home he was so drunk that the least thing made him mad."

"When I came from work, Leslie wasn't home and Mr. Williams was sitting at the side of the house sewing. He was mending a tear in Junior's pants so I wouldn't find out about it. Junior went to the park and came back with some letters to mail. He was standing talking to Leslie when Mr. Williams called him. The argument started there and I guess Leslie was like a lot of other people when they're drunk—he just couldn't think of anything but getting him gun and shooting.

"I know Leslie wasn't in his right mind or he wouldn't have done it."

"What is going to happen now I don't know. I worry about it until I don't know what to do. I don't know, I don't think anybody knows, what a man will do, after something happens like this".

Reed waived his preliminary hearing Wednesday and was committed to the county jail. He is being held without bond.

BOY IS DECLARED DEAD AS PRAYERS OFFERED HE LIVE

Lawrence Olson Collapsed At Full Gospel Church On Tuesday

SUPPLICATIONS ON THROUGH NIGHT

Body Is Taken This Afternoon To Home ear Warrensburg

A fourteen year old boy, Lawrence Olson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Olson, residing eight miles south of Warrensburg, who was described by the Rev. C. W. Swanson, as being "demon possessed," remained still, in what many observers say was "death," today after a collapse in the Full Gospel church, about 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

The boy, an invalid since birth, being deaf and dumb, came to Sedalia a week ago with his sister, Miss Lena Olson, to seek relief for his affliction, which Rev. Swanson reportedly described as being "demon possessed."

Regularly the boy and his sister have attended the prayer meetings in the morning and in the evenings. His week of prayers came to a climax about 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon when the boy went into a violent rage and it was necessary for six men to calm him. As he pulled and strained, his face twisted in a gruesome expression of pain, and he then collapsed upon the floor in front of the church altar. It was then the "demons" were leaving the body, Rev. Swanson reputedly declared.

Body on Floor

From the time of his collapse on through the night, he lay upon the floor in front of the altar, his head being placed on a pillow. Groups numbering from ten to fifty gathered in the church and around the body, continually praying for his "return." He remained upon the floor until about 10:30 o'clock this morning when he was removed to a house just east of the church and owned by the church.

The congregation then went into a small room where the boy lay and began another series of prayers.

During Tuesday afternoon a glass of water was placed to his lips, and, according to members of the congregation, bubbles came forth which assured life, they claimed. During the afternoon a doctor who visited the place pronounced the boy dead, but this would not be accepted by Rev. Swanson, who claimed he was still breathing, indicating this by placing his hands on the boy's stomach, and claiming he could feel breathing, while he felt beneath the boy's clothing and declared there was still body warmth. This was nearly twelve hours after the boy had collapsed.

A newspaper reporter who visited the church about 2:30 o'clock this morning accepted Reverend Swanson's invitation to make an examination. He placed his hand upon the man's stomach. He felt no movement which indicated breathing. He "took the man's pulse" and felt no movement, and looked closely at the boy's eyes. They appeared set. He looked at the boy's color and was not convinced there was circulation, as was indicated by Reverend Swanson who placed his thumb against the boy's arm and pressed, to indicate a change in color. This was slight, but was not convincing to the press representative.

Is Pronounced Dead

Shortly after noon today Dr. J. E. Mitchell, county physician, and representative of the State Board of Health, in company with Dr. Gordon Stauffacher, coroner, went to the church and then to the house next door where the body had been taken. Dr. Mitchell conducted an examination and pronounced the boy dead. Dr. Stauffacher then made an examination and likewise declared the boy dead.

Both doctors ordered the person in charge to inform Reverend Swanson upon his return that the boy's body would have to be removed within an hour otherwise they would have a local undertaker take charge.

The doctors said the boy had been dead since Tuesday afternoon.

The doctors said they learned the boy was subject to epileptic attacks. They were also told, it was said, the boy had suffered two severe attacks last week, one on Friday and another on Saturday, after which he was taken to the family home south of Warrensburg.

Body To Warrensburg

About 2 o'clock this afternoon the body was removed from the house and taken to Warrensburg in the McLaughlin hearse. The body was accompanied to Warrensburg by his sister and by Reverend Swanson and a few members of the local congregation.

Dr. Stauffacher stated that it was not necessary for an inquest inasmuch as there was no evidence of criminal liability, or foul play, death being from a natural cause.

The boy was returned to Sedalia, it was said, Monday and again began attending the prayer services for him.

Hemorrhage Indicated

The doctors were of the opinion the boy suffered one of these attacks and when he became violent and was restrained by the men, the boy suffered what was believed a brain hemmorhage which caused his death. This indication was given due to the blood which was said to have run from his nose and mouth.

The members of the congregation still at the place endeavored to prove to the physicians the boy was not dead by referring to various scriptures.

They insisted the boy was not dead and the "demons" were infesting his body, and in due course of time he would again live. He would be cured of his affliction, they professed to believe, as the "demons" were being driven from the body, this being indicated, they claimed when he collapsed Tuesday.

Tuesday afternoon as men, women, children and babies in mother's arms, gathered around the altar and around the boy lying upon the floor, Reverend Swanson asked for a Bible and read a chapter, a story he insisted was identical to the Olson boy's case.

Turning to the ninth chapter of Mark he read: "Master I have brought thee my son, which hath a dumb spirit. (Olson came a week ago saying he possessed a spirit in him).

"When they saw him straightway the spirit tore him and he fell on the ground and wallowed foaming." (Olson fell to the floor with foam at his mouth).

"He asked his father how long ago since this came unto him? And he said, of a child" (Olson was born deaf and dumb).

"He rebuked the foul spirit, saying unto him, "Thou dumb and deaf spirit, I charge thee, come out of him and the spirit cried, and rent him sore, and came out of him. (Olson became violent taking six men to hold him—bruising him in his struggle.

"Jesus took him by the hand and lifted him up, and he arose."

TALK ON FAIR TO ROTARY CLUB

Charles W. Green, secretary of the Missouri State Fair, was the guest speaker at the noonday meeting of the Rotary Club at Hotel Bothwell Monday giving an outline of the history of fairs from 1066 to the present time. He also spoke of the essentials necessary for a good fair, a budget prepared with optimism, educational features, recreational features, publicity, with the newspaper as the best medium for this purpose.

Jack McLaughlin, club president, presided over the business session and R. M. Johns presented Mr. Green.

Guests, other than members were, George W. Gross, St. Louis, guest of W. D. Smith; C. Harmon, of Carbondale, Ill., past district governor of Rotary; "Dad" Rompel, of Ottawa, Ill., also a past district Rotary governor, and Rotarian George Hearne of Warrensburg.

Rotarian E. G. Kennedy, principal of Smith-Cotton high school announced that plans are being discussed, which may make it possible to have bus transportation to and from Warrensburg for Sedalia students attending the State Teachers college. Heber U. Hunt, superintendent of the Sedalia public schools, and Mr. Kennedy have talked with George W. Diemer, president of the college, who gave it as his opinion that such a plan may be worked out, and bus transportation furnished for a nominal sum. He expects to have some definite information on the subject in a week or ten days.

MRS. W. P. CHRYSLER DIES IN NEW YORK

GREAT NECK, N. Y., Aug. 9.—(AP)—Mrs. Walter P. Chrysler, wife of the automobile manufacturer, died at her home last night after a cerebral hemorrhage.

All members of the family were at the bedside when death occurred at 5 p. m. (C. S. T.)

Mrs. Chrysler was stricken earlier in the day and was placed in an iron lung. She had been treated several months for high blood pressure.. Her son, Walter, Jr., said. She complained after dinner Sunday night of feeling ill and retired early.

TWO FIGHTS BREAK OUT IN COUNTY JAIL

The tempers of thirty men confined in the narrow quarters of the Pettis county jail broke Wednesday and resulted in two encounters between prisoners.

Wednesday morning Hubert Keithley and John Edward Smith, Negro, began an argument which ended when Keithley struck the Negro over the head with a milk bottle, inflicting a cut.

Dr. J. E. Mitchell, county physician, was called to the jail to treat the injury.

Later in the day Keithley again became involved in a fight, this time with Albert Gehlken.

Sheriff W. L. Marlin and his deputies, Clyde Coppers, John Starkey and Tom Moffitt, the latter colored, were out hunting Leslie Reed, Negro, wanted for murder, when the last fight began. Mrs. Marlin, who was alone at the jail, called the police, and Officer William Couhig rushed to the jail and was met there by Chief John J. O'Brien and Officer Clarence Harrell

While trying to unlock the jail door, Deputies Coppers and Starkey returned to the jail and Starkey unlocked the door. Couhig rushed in and grabbed Keithley and made him loosen his grip on Gehlken who was sitting on the floor in a pool of gray paint, with his eyes blackened and his head showings signs of having received the worst end of the "scrap."

The deputies and the police officers soon had restored order in the jail. A can of gray paint which was left in the jail by some workmen, was obtained by other prisoners during the fight and in some manner, or fashion, was put in the way of the "battlers" resulting in it being turned over and paint covered the floor in front of the jail door making a "nasty mess" and giving the fighters a "coat of color."

Sheriff Marlin said the inadequate quarters in the jail and the heat were principally responsible for the trouble.

FIFTEEN MORE DAYS FOR HUNTING DUCKS

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 6—(AP)—New federal regulations will permit Missouri hunters fifteen more days to hunt ducks and geese than were allowed last year, the state conservation commission announced today.

The federally prescribed open season is from Oct. 15 to Nov. 28. While Missouri waterfowl regulations do not coincide with the federal season, the commission explained, the federal regulations take precedence.

The number of ducks allowed in a hunter's possession is also increased by the federal rules to two bags of 10 birds each instead of one bag of 10. However, the restriction on one day's kill was continued at 10, and the shooting hours will remain the same, 7 a. m. to 4 p. m. No live decoys will be permitted.

Another change permits limited shooting of canvasback, ruddy, redhead and bufflehead ducks. All of which were fully protected the last two seasons. Three of these species are now permitted in a day's kill and six may be in a hunter's possession.

Easing of restrictions was attributed to an increase in ducks during the strict control of the last few years and to improved condition of breeding grounds.

INJURED WHEN MOTORCYCLE STRUCK TELEPHONE POLE

Alfred Arnold, aged 28, garage employe, was injured Sunday morning at Cole Camp, when a motorcycle he was riding left the road and struck a telephone pole. He suffered a severe head injury the outcome of which can not be determined for a few days.

Arnold had taken a young friend to his home in Cole Camp, and was returning to Sedalia when the accident occurred. He was brought to Sedalia in Eckhoff's ambulance, and taken to the Bothwell hospital, where he is being cared for.

DISTRICT MEET FOR RELIGIOUS COUNCIL SUNDAY

Convention New Bethel Church Well Attended Officers Elected

(By Church Reporter)

The convention of the Pettis County Council of Religious Education for the Washington-Flat Creek District met on Sunday afternoon at 2 p. m. at the New Bethel church on highway 65, three miles south of Sedalia.

Although the day was warm an interested crowd of people gathered from all over the district to enjoy the program as arranged by the committees. Mr. Vest Elliott president and Miss Fanny Hurt of the McKee Chapel conducted the worship service, using as the theme the familiar and beautiful parable of the "Vine and the Branches" as found in the 15th chapter of John. Mr. Guy Hurt gave an enjoyable solo, "Place your hand in the Nail Sacred Hands."

Mrs. Frank S. Leach, director for the drama and music of the council next gave an interesting talk on the "Romance and Dramatics of Color", using the beautiful Rainbow of Promise, with its lovely colors, as the foundation of her talk. That Rainbow sent to bring reassurance to the Isralites of old and still appearing at intervals in the sky bring wonderment and hope to those who see it today. She spoke of the story of colors from early times, their supersitious traditions and the part they play in our every day life, and individual moods. Even a small child loves colors and shows early a preference for certain colors. Mrs. Leach told of colors appropriate for use in great pageants as well as fairy Masques, and she told too of the meaning and effect of colors explaining the colors used by the great artists in painting the Christ, the Madonna and other characters of the Bible. She spoke of the emotional and symbolic correctness of color combinations showing charts with some 75 color and combinations of shades.

Address By Rev. Waggoner

Rev. Ralph Waggoner pastor of the Broadway Presbyterian church was then presented and he spoke most delightfully on "America The Beautiful, Spirtually as well as physically" and his address was preceded by the singing of "America the Beautiful." Dr. Waggoner spoke of his pleasure in being present at that beautiful little church with its spire ascending heavenward and its name significient, meaning "House of God."

He referred to the kinds of life in America and of wonderful historic spots that he had visited made scarced by the names of George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, the Adamses, Madison, Monroe and others who helped to found the nation. He told graffically of the integrity of those immortal signers of the Declaration of Independence, of John Hamilton who signed his name in large letters "so all could see" he said and others followed, proud to affix their names to that precious document.

Dr. Waggoner told of revently placing his hand on the Liberty Bell which rang out and proclaimed liberty throughout the land, symbolic of the new civic life that was born with its calrion tones. He referred to Valley Forge with its poorly fed and clad patriots, 4000 of them dying during that bleak winter and 9000 fallen ill, that the cause of liberty might prevail. Those men loved religion and the church, for little churches just like New Bethel, sprang up every where, along with the schools, for education and religion came hand in hand, in our land in those early days. "Public Trust and not Public Graft" was the order of the day in the hearts of those sacrificing early; statesmen. Dr. Waggoner's plea was for a Christian America, for history records the fall of nations that forget God. He asked for a people, straight-thinking, honest of purpose, and sacrifical in service, that we may ultimately preserve "America the Beautiful."

Miss Vesta Elliott sang "The Silent Voice" and Mrs. H. L. Hill of Smithton, the County President next spoke of the broad mission of the Council of Religious Education with its local state and national aspects and its 45 different denominations in America as members. She told of the Religious Training Study courses carefully thought out by competent director ready to develop religious educational fields. Her talk went straight to the heart and was most inspirational, as she told of the great good that has already come through the many branches of this educational vast program of the churches.

Judge Dimmitt Hoffman Vice President of the Council was the next speaker and he gave a glimpse into the needs for that old fashioned real Christianity in our land today, the getting back to the mourners bence, if necessary, where young and old might rededicate their lives to a new and brighter sphere of usefulness. He said Boy and Girl Scouts were doing a great work but his thought was for a larger and broader converted life.

Miss Jaunita Young head of the Young Peoples work spoke briefly upon her plans for them and Miss Grace Colvin assistant treasurer made request for funds needed to carry on the large programs of the Council.

Play Presented

Then the audience was treated to a rare treat in the form of a play called "Wooden Soldiers" presented by Mrs. James Meyers and Mrs. William Akers, of Green Ridge. This play was so well and touchingly given that there was hardly a dry eye in the audience as Mrs. Meyers took the part of the aged mother and Mrs. Akers the young mother who had gotten a box of Wooden Soldiers, for her little boy's birthday present. After the pathetic story of the death of a beloved son on the world war battle field told by the Mrs. Meyers, the young mother threw the toy soldiers one by one into the fire place and prayed God to forever spare her son from such a death. This play was so appropriate now when we are hoping that beautiful Ameria may never be drawn into another war. Many expressed a wish that every one might see this play. Much appreciation was expresed to the Green Ridge ladies for its presentation.

The following district officers for the coming year were elected:

President, Frank Van Dyke, Pleasant Hill.

Vice president, Vest Elliott, New Bethel.

Secretary, Mrs. F. H. Helman, McKee chapel.

Treasurer, Isaac Snow, New Bethel.

Young People's Dept., Mrs. Gertrude Boucher, McKee Chapel.

Adult Dept., Mrs. J. E. Longan, Quisenberry district.

Children's Dept., Mrs. Paul Reed, Quisenberry.

ORGANIZE NEW GOP CLUB HERE MONDAY NIGHT

Frank Wagner President of Young Republican Group

Frank Wagner was elected president of the Pettis County Young Republicans club organized in the assembly room of the court house Monday night.

Other officers named from the 125 present were Miss Hazel Palmer, vice-president; Miss Margaret Hert, secretary, and R. M. Battles, treasurer.

George J. Gross, St. Louis, organizer for the Missouri division, was the principal speaker at the meeting. Mr. Gross told the members of the aid which Young Republican clubs were to the party, how they were founded and how they were kept active.

Mr. Gross was associated with the Federal Bureau of Investigation for six years and he also described to the club some of his experiences with that organization. He was introduced by W. D. Smith, county chairman of the Republican committee.

During the business meeting the club decided to meet exgovernor Henry Caulfield, Republican candidate for United States senator with a motor carivan when he comes to Sedalia tonight to open his campaign. The caravan will meet Mr. Caulfield at the new underpass east of the city.

The club began plans for a membership drive in the county and named a committee to begin work. Those appointed were Grace Farley and Matt Holtzen. A similar club for the Negroes is also planned.

The Young Republicans will meet the second and fourth Mondays of each month.

WORK AHEAD FOR SEDALIA BUILDERS

Sedalia skilled mechanics among the union building crafts will be furnished with plenty of work according to representatives of the various crafts who met in Warrensburg last Tuesday with a government representative and discussed wage scale on skilled mechanics and laborers, to be used on two large buildings for the Central Missouri State Teachers college.

It was indicated the work will require nearly two years and will give employment to between 100 and 200 Sedalia men.

The labor class will be furnished by Warrensburg and if enough such employment can not be obtained then laborers from Sedalia will be used. It was indicated this would mean work for several Sedalians. The scale turned in on this class of work was fifty cents per hour.

Sedalians who attended the meeting were W. C. Cramer, bricklayers; "Bill" Shaw of the Carpenters; Everett White of the Painters; William Gibbs of Plasterers, and the wage scale of the other crafts were turned in by these representatives.

One of the buildings will be faced with stone being removed from the old Jackson county court house in Kansas City which is being torn down. The old court house had sand stone facing very similar to other buildings on the teacher college campus.

HOLD SERVICES FOR 4 VICTIMS IN RAIL WRECK

N. H. Anderson Still In Critical Condition in Hospital

NO INQUEST HELD

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon for four relatives, victims of a railroad crossing tragedy near Dresden Thursday night, while a fifth man, George Anderson, lay in Bothwell hospital in a critical condition.

Services for Newton Fisher, 64, his son, Jack. The father and son-in-law, Nathan Faulconer, 42, and his grand-daughter, Miss Ruth Taylor, 15, were conducted at the Mt. Zion church near Houstonia at 4:00 o'clock Friday afternoon. The Reverend C. E. Hawn of Warrensburg and the Reverend J. A. DeWitt of Beaman conducted the services.

Burial was made in the family lot in the Mt. Zion church cemetery with the Ewing Funeral home in charge of the Taylor body and the Westbrook Funeral home of Houstonia in charge of Mr. Fisher and his son and son-in-law.

Still in the hospital suffering from injuries received in the accident are George Anderson and his son, Jack The father and son were on the running board of the model T tudor sedan when it was struck by the train and were thrown clear of the wreckage saving them from more serious injuries.

Mr Anderson was reported by hospital atetndants to be in a very serious condition but his son was progressing satisfactorily having received only bruises and lacerations.

Dr. Gordon Stauffacher, county corner, said Friday night that he would not conduct an inquest into the accident.

Mrs. C. H. Bulkley, 310 West Fifth street, is a sister of George Anderson.

WILL OF ACCIDENT VICTIM IS FILED

The will of the late N. H. Fisher, who was one of four victims killed in an automobile accident near Dresden Thursday night, was filed in the probate court Saturday.

The deceased stated he wanted two of his ten children, Sam A. and Forrest Fisher, to look after his affairs. Sam was killed in the same accident in which the father met his death.

The will was made June 28, 1938, and at that time Mr. Fisher stated he was not in good health, realized he was going to have to undergo a major operation and wanted to make the will before that took place. The operation was not performed, but death came in another way.

OUTLINES PLAN TO HELP NEEDY U. S. FARMERS

Hopkins Takes First Step In 'Frontal Attack' On Inadequate Income

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Inauguration of a permanent program of between-season employment for needy farmers was announced here tonight by Harry L. Hopkins, works progress administrator, as the first step of President Roosevelt's "frontal attack" on the south's inequality of income.

Hopkins, in an address prepared for nation-wide broadcast, said he came today to talk with state and regional administrators of 11 southern states in which diets for thosands consists of "grits, greens and gravy."

To Use WPA

He said he discussed with the administrators "measures the WPA can take to further the President's purposes," after previously giving them authority to add a total of 200,000 persons to the WPA rolls pending the time when labor would be needed for picking cotton.

"We intend to close out this employment in picking time, and to open it up again when the harvest is over," Hopkins said.

He said there were thousands of southerners in rural areas not earning an adequate income from agriculture.

"I believe, therefore, as a matter of permanent policy the head of every farm family whose income is inadequate should be given employment a few months each year to supplement his agricultural income," Hopkins said. He added while he intended to see the jobs went to the needy, he proposed to modify the procedure of certification for work "and to substitute in its place an employment system which will remove the offensive stigma of relief from these people."

Supplementary Work

This "supplementary work," Hopkins pointed out, is not a "final answer," but "I am convinced that any permanent satisfactory solution is going to be a long time in the making."

'If the per capita net income of farm families in the south could be brought up to the level of farmers' incomes in the rest of the country, the pool of new purchasing power thus created would absorb twice as many goods as we exported to all foreign countries in 1935."

SIX ACCIDENTAL DEATHS IN STATE

By The Associated Press.

Six accidental deaths occurred in Missouri over the week-end.

The toll included deaths by automobile collision, auto-train, shooting, drowning, heat and suffocation.

Mrs. Nellie Grotjan, 42, was injured fatally when a train struck her automobile at a crossing near Nevada Sunday.

O. D. Griffith, 39, died Saturday of injuries suffered a few hours before in an auto-truck collision on a bridge near Hartnett, near Joplin.

Other deaths Sunday were:

Raymond Foley, 23, milk truck driver, found shot through the head on an ordinarily busy street in St. Louis.

Withnell Hammer, 25-year-old widower and father of two children, drowned in the Mississippi river near St. Louis.

Mrs. Agnes E. Ring, 82, widow of James J. Ring, St. Louis merchandise broker, died of heart prostration.

Six-month-old Jacqueline Freise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Freise of St. Louis, was suffocated in her crib when the blanket on which she had been lying became twisted about her neck.

MRS. SCOTTEN HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Mrs. Norman Scotten, wife of Norman Scotten, golf pro at the Sedalia Country Club, suffered a fracture of the right shoulder and bruises about her body last week when a Ford car in which she riding with her husband and Mr. and Mrs. John F. Nesbitt, turned over at the edge of Marshall, Mo., on highway 65.

Mr. and Mrs. Scotten were accompanying them on a trip to Marshall when a car crowded them from the highway and their car turned over in a ditch. The car was badly damaged.

The other three occupants of the car were bruised but not seriously injured.

Mrs. Scotten is confined to her home at the Country Club.

FIFTH VICTIM IN CROSSING CRASH G. L. ANDERSON

Succumbs From Injuries Received When Four Others Killed

The death of George L. Anderson, 42 years old, who died at the Bothwell hospital at 5:15 o'clock Monday evening, was the fifth resulting from the worst railroad crossing tragedy of this county which occurred on last Thursday night at 7:05 o'clock when Missouri Pacific passenger train No. 14, struck an old model T Ford tudor sedan driven by Samuel Fisher.

The accident occurred at the "Hoy" McConley crossing two miles west of Dresden. At the time Samuel Fisher, his father, Newton Fisher, his niece, Miss Ruth Taylor and his brother-in-law, Nathan Faulconer, were killed, and Jack Anderson, 9, son of George Anderson, was slightly injured.

The son is the only survivor of the wreck and he told of how he and his father were riding on the running board of the Fisher car when it was struck by the train. He said he had either jumped or was thrown from the car into the road, while his father did not have any chance to jump clear and was still clinging to the car when the train hit.

Unconscious To End

Mr. Anderson suffered a concussion of the brain and many bruises about the body. He never regained consciousness. His son received injuries to both ankles which were slight. The boy was taken to the home of his uncle, W. J. Anderson, 1500 South Quincy avenue, Monday evening.

The deceased was the son of the late Charles and Margaret Anderson, born near Syracuse on September 19, 1895, was reared and educated in that community. Twenty years ago he came to Pettis county and has since resided in this county following his profession a a farmer.

During the world war he enlisted in the United States army and was in Camp Funston. Kansas, and upon being discharged returned to his home which then was in Syracuse.

July 17, 1920 he was married to Miss Joellen Combs, of Longwood, who survives as do the following children: Glenn 16, Lucille 14, Alma 12, Jack 9, Mary Nell 7, Rebe 4, Elizabeth 2, and Stanley Anderson six months, all of the family home.

Also surviving are four sisters, Mrs. Charles Bulkley, 310 West Fifth street, Mrs Henry Cooper of Longwood and Mrs. Kate Burns, of Syracuse, Mrs. Ellen Gonder of Mexico, Mo., four brothers Robert Anderson of near Marshall, Will J. Anderson of 1500 South Quincy avenue, Sedalia, James Anderson of Malta Bend and John Anderson of Arizona.

Funeral services will be conducted at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning at the Methodist Episcopal Longwood church, of which he was a member with the Reverend Frank Burton, pastor of the Houstonia M. E. church, officiating.

Friends will serve as pall bearers.

BIRD CONFESSES HOLDUPS AFTER BEING CAPTURED

Last of Bank-Robbing Gang, Charles Bird, Held In Jail

HE AND ATTRACTIVE WIFE ARE TRAPPED

Arrest Ends Extensive Touring Since Escape From Cleveland

By The Associated Press.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 9.—The precarious trail of freedom that Charles Bird, midwest desperado, had followed since breaking jail with his bank-robbing gang in Cleveland last year was deadended in a barred jail cell today.

Last of his notorious gang to be caught, the dark-haired, 26-year old convicted robber and his attractive 24-year old wife, blonde Barbara Seiber Bird, were trapped by detectives last night and held for a series of armed robberies here.

Captain of Detectives John A. Cooney said Bird admitted his identity and that of his wife after the officer had removed a piece of adhesive tape from the man's arm and revealed the tattooed initials "C. B."

Later the bureau of identification at police headquarters announced the couple had been identified positively through checking their fingerprints with Cleveland police.

The Birds have a year-old son, Charles, Jr., living with his grandparents in Cleveland.

Confesses Robberies

Acting Police Commissioner Stephen G. Nelson said Bird confessed to at least seven robberies here, including the National Brewery holdup in June, and admitted he had planned to hold up six Baltimore banks and business houses.

Bird insisted, detectives said, that although his wife drove his automobile on his "jobs," she "didn't know a thing about what I was doing."

Their arrest ended a flight that had carried them to the west coast, to eastern seaboard points, including Boston, Atlantic City, Newark and finally, Baltimore.

Captain Cooney said Bird told him he and his wife came here in May after a $1,500 holdup in Boston. They were forced to abandon their car, he said, and later bought a new car. That car, a big green sedan, led to their arrest.

Captain Cooney said Bird told him a partner had been arrested in Philadelphia and sent to the Alcatraz federal prison.

He apparently was referring to James Widmer, 31, captured in Philadelphia October 15, driving a stolen car.

Frank Bird, 30, another member of the gang, and brother of Charles, was taken in Cleveland, October 29 with his wife, Sylvia, 21. Widmer and Frank Bird are now in Alcatraz.

Frank Bird and Widmer, serving life terms for murder, escaped from the Missouri state prison in the winter of 1937, some six months after Charles Bird, serving a ten-year term for robbery, had broken out.

The three men, facing federal charges of kidnaping in a Cleveland bank robbery, were captured in the Ohio city in July 1937, after a gun battle following another bank holdup.

On September 22, 1937, all three made a sensational escape from the Cleveland County jail, aided, federal agents said, by pistols smuggled in by Barbara Bird. A woman pedestrain was killed in the gunmen's automobile flight through downtown Cleveland.

Care For Baby

CLEVELAND, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Relieved that their daughter and son-in-law are in custody, Joseph Sieber and his mild-mannered wife, Anna, renewed today a pledge to care for the tousled haired baby that Barbara Bird abandoned for the role of a "big time" fugitive's mate.

The wife of Charles Bird, 26, last of a desperate bank robber gang to elude capture, last September 22 hugged and kissed the blond infant, laid him cooing in his bed, hastily kissed her mother and embarked on a career that held danger and possibly death.

From that day, Charles Joseph Bird, Jr., now 13 months old, has not seen his 24-year-old mother, who was captured last night in Baltimore with her gun-wielding husband.

"I'm glad," said Sieber, her aging father. "There won't be any more anxious nights."

"No matter what the outcome of this is, we will look after the baby," Mrs. Sieber added. "He's ours now."

Find Body of Boy Drowned

VAN BUREN, Mo., Aug. 8—(AP)—The body of Lloyd Arnold Bowen, 11, son of Lymon Bowen of Van Buren, was found Sunday morning floating in the Current river here about 300 yards down stream from the place where his clothing was found Friday. The boy was drowned when he went swimming alone.

First City Engineer of St. Louis

A most important act to the city of St. Louis was the enactment of the Missouri legislature in 1839 which created the office of city engineer. But significant as it was, the act was not more important than the appointment of Henry Kayser as the first man to fill that office. Kayser had studied architecture, mathematics, hydraulics, and building techniques with the best German engineers, and had served in the United Sattes surveyor general's office, where he acquired the art of administration.

Kayser was born on August 9, 1811, one hundred and twenty-seven years ago this week in St. Goarshausen, a town on the east bank of the Rhine river about 16 miles above Coblenz, Germany. After completing his course in the gymnasium at Wetblar, Kayser selected the study of architecture. He studied with outstanding German architects in Coblenz and Darmstadt, and attended lectures on higher mathematics and hydraulics delivered by engineers who were engaged in the improvement of the Rhine. He then attended the Polytechnic Institute at Frankfort for the purpose of gaining practical information on building operations. When his father died in 1833, Kayser, together with a brother and a sister, emigrated to the United States.

Failing to find a position where he could practice his profession, Kayser opened a drawing school for mechanics' apprentices, which was enthusiastically supported by the master mechanics. At the same time he was employed making maps of various Indian reservations, and during his leisure time he made pencil and water color sketches of the prominent buildings of St. Louis. Thus he became well known to the public, and was soon employed by the United States surveyor general of public lands for Illinois and Missouri.

Plats For Speculators

During his employment in the surveyor's office, he used his spare time drawing plats for land speculators. In 1853, Kayser was appointed assistant engineer to Lieutenant Robert E. Lee, who had been sent to St. Louis to survey and improve the harbor. Moreover, during the winter of 1838, he assisted Nicollet, the noted French scientist and geographer, in making drawings based upon his upper Mississippi river expedition.

Prior to 1839, public improvements in St. Louis seem to have been conducted in a very unsystematic manner. To remedy the situation the legislature, in May, 1839, created the new office of city engineer. Kayser was appointed engineer, and immediately organized the various departments so as to gain a degree of accountability and to carry out a number of outstanding improvements, including a large dike from Bloody island to the east bank of the river, the Mill creek and Biddle street sewers, and other important drainage projects between Madison and Benton streets and between Twentieth and Twenty-second streets.

In private life, Kayser was honored with various positions of trust. He served as a director of the St. Louis and Iron Mountain railroad and the St. Louis Gas Light Company. He was president of the first German-American musical society in St. Louis, the Polyhymnia; president of the first German club; one of the founders of the first German Newspaper in St. Louis, the Anseiger des Westens; and president of the German Emigration Society. After the Casconade bridge disaster in 1855, he was appointed as a member of a commission to investigate the causes of the accident, and the careful thought and analysis with which he performed his duty brought complimentary responses even from abroad, despite his disagreement with the majority report.

For fourteen years Kayser rendered excellent technical service to the city of St. Louis, and was known as an engineer of outstanding ability. He died on October 16, 1884, in Hoboken, New Jersey.

INJUNCTION TO LIQUOR DEALERS IS KNOCKED OUT

Supreme Court Decision Hits Spots Remaining Open Sundays

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 8.—(AP)—The state supreme court today knocked out an injunction under which St. Louis retail liquor dealers have been remaining open on Sundays to sell 3.2 per cent beer.

The opinion also struck at the practice of dealers' "pretending" to sell beer on Sundays and actually selling intoxicating liquors.

The injunction had been granted by Circuit Judge Granville Hogan in a suit brought by 450 dealers against Thomas F. Fitzgerald, then state liquor control supervisor, and St. Louis police officials.

But the court, in a unanimous opinion written by Judge Ernest S. Gantt, declared:

"The right to sell intoxicating liquor is not a natural right. The state may impose limits, conditions, burdens and responsibilities upon those engaged in the traffic."

The dealers had argued that the prohibition of Sunday liquor sales in the state liquor control act deprived them of property without due proces of law and infringed upon their constitutional rights.

The opinion disposed of the latter argument with the statement—"the record presents no constitutional question"—and added:

"It is argued the act undertakes to regulate both the sale of intoxicating liquor and of non-intoxicating beer on Sunday and for that reason the act contains more than one subject" and is therefore unconstitutional.

"We do not think so. The legislature intended to prohibit saloon-keepers from selling intoxicating liquor on Sunday while pretending to sell only non-intoxicating beer. In other words, said section is not a regulation of the condition of those licensed to sell intoxicating liquor and does not violate the constitution."

ED WILLIAMS DIES FROM GUN WOUNDS

Ed. Williams, colored, died at 3:30 o'clock Friday morning of gunshot wounds received Thursday afternon after an argument with Leslie Reed, also colored, in whose home he had lived for twenty-six years.

Prosecuting Attorney Jobe L. Harned issued a warrant for Reed's arrest on charge of murder Friday afternoon. After the shooting Reed escaped in his car and had not been apprehended late last night.

Thursday afternon Reed shot Williams at close range with a 16 gauge shotgun after Williams had been trying to pacify Reed, reported to have been intoxicated. The charge almost tore off Williams' left arm and it was amputated that afternoon at the city hospital No. 2.

Williams failed to rally after the operation and died Friday morning.

He had come to Sedalia from Oklahoma 26 years ago and had made his home with the Reed family. The body was taken to the Alexander funeral home.

Local police who conducted the investigation and are searching for Reed said he had several "hideouts" in towns surrounding Sedalia. The slayer had slipped from his home at 412 West Petus street unnoticed after firing at Williams twice.
